Kennedy Hopes Are Bouyed for Alliance Setup

Progress Plan Given Warm Backing by Mexican Officials

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy's hopes for success of his Alliance for Progress were buoyed today by his second personal diplomatic venture into Latin America—a smashing triumph in Mexico City.

Millions of Mexicans in gay fiesta spirit poured into the squares and esplanades of their capital and packed the streets to cheer the President and Mrs. Kennedy on their weekend visit.

That outpouring of humanity, which all but engulfed the presidential bubble-top limousine as it inched its way Sunday from Mexico's most famous shrine, the basilica of Our Lady of Guadalupe, alone marked the trip a success.

Kennedy's Alliance for Progress in Latin America, a multibillion-dollar international aid program spearheaded by the United States, is keyed to "peaceful revolution" to benefit the little people of the hemisphere. He obviously is working on the theory that loans and grants aren't enough, that the job can't be done without enthusiasm of both governments and people.

From that standpoint the President and First Lady seemed heavily on their trip to Venezuela and Colombia last December. Their weekend in Mexico City was even more spectacular.

Never before had Mexico City turned out in such masses to greet a visiting dignitary. Government personnel who have been traveling with presidents for years say the pulsating reception exceeded any they had witnessed.

Fears that anti-U.S. elements would cause trouble proved unnecessary. There were no disorders, not a placard of protest visible, through the weekend.

Wherever he spoke, at official luncheons or at the Mexican government's big housing project outside the city, Kennedy talked of revolution in the peaceful sense. He associated political and economic progress in the 1960s with the revolutions that had advanced both the United States and Mexico in the past.

The joint communique issued Saturday by Kennedy and President Adolfo Lopez Mateos of Mexico bound the two countries to work side by side in promoting the wellbeing of all inhabitants of the hemisphere. It also joined them in recognizing the independence of each nation and to oppose intervention, whether from Castro's Cuba or Khrushchev's Moscow.

On the major dispute between the two governments, the United States agreed to take such measures as may be immediately feasible to reduce the salt content of the water flowing from the Colorado River into northern Mexico. Farmers in the Mexican area have complained too much salt in the water has ruined their land.

Glass Worker Union Goes on Strike

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (AP)—A labor dispute idled about 45 men today and disrupted work at glass installation firms in Huntington, Williamson, Portsmouth, Ohio and Ashland, Ky.

Members of Local 1413, Glaziers and Glass Workers Union, AFL-CIO, went on strike and set up picket lines today after new contract talks bogged down. The old contract expired at midnight Saturday.

Local President Wilmer Gibson said more contract negotiations are scheduled tentatively for Thursday.

RALLY ON THE FARM — Former President Eisenhower pats former Vice President Richard Nixon's arm as they exchange places on the platform during a GOP oratorical rally on the Eisenhower farm at Gettysburg, Pa. Hundreds of jubilant Republicans, a cross-section of Republican hopefuls from city hall to Capitol hill, heard the former Vice President denounce "the increasing tendency to centralize power in Washington, while Mr. Eisenhower from the same platform appealed to businessmen to 'get into politics — and quick to effect a return to sound government.'"

Moslems Celebrate, Bicker After Winning Independence

ALGIERS (AP) — Algeria's Moslems triumphantly celebrated their hard-won independence today, paying little heed to an open split between their leaders that promised more trouble for the new nation.

Throughout the country, Algerians flocked to the polls Sunday to vote a virtually unanimous "yes" to independence and collaboration with France. Many thousands of Europeans reluctantly joined in the vote.

Many towns registered not a single "no" vote. The final result was expected to be close to 99 per cent affirmative.

The vote set a sweeping seal of approval on the evian cease-fire agreement that ended the bitter, 7½-year Algerian war.

It did not yet make Algeria an independent nation legally. The separation from France will be formally decreed by President Charles de Gaulle when the final results of Sunday's referendum are known, probably within two or three days.

For jubilant Moslem millions, independence began when the polls closed Sunday night. Crowds of young Moslem men and women cruised through the streets of the European quarters joyfully chanting nationalist slogans and waving immense green and white Algerian nationalist flags.

In the European strongholds of Algiers and Oran, settlers watched the demonstrations with glum faces but no violent clashes were reported anywhere.

The entire referendum was held without a single incident of major violence. It seemed almost like a miracle of calm and reason. Less than a month ago, European Secret Army Organization killers held the main cities in a grip of terror and swore to bring the country down in blood and flames before they abandoned it to the Moslem majority.

The secret army's resistance collapsed with astonishing suddenness. One of its leaders, 28-year-old medical student Jean-Jacques Susini, even asked his followers to vote "yes" in the referendum.

In Oran, the last stronghold of the secret army and center of the most bitter European resistance, there was a big turnout of Europeans to vote. Exuberant Moslems kept the once forbidden European sector of the big port city awake most of the night with a noisy victory celebration.

The victorious nationalist guerrilla army swept out of its hilltop encampments while the voting was still in progress and took swift control of towns and villages.

Technically this was a violation of the Evian agreement. But neither the French administration nor the provisional executive, headed by mild-mannered Abdelrahmane Fares, stood in the way of the victory-flushed guerrilla soldiers.

U.S. To Pull Marines Out Of Thailand

BANGKOK, Thailand, (AP)—The United States is pulling 1,000 Marines out of Thailand because of "general lessening of tension" along the Laotian border. Another 1,200 Marines and 3,000 Army troops are remaining.

The U.S. Defense Department announced the withdrawal Sunday and said President Kennedy had authorized it. The announcement said more Marines might be withdrawn soon, depending on the situation.

A U.S. Embassy spokesman said the Leathernecks "will still be in a position to move back quickly if necessary." They were rushed to Thailand from units of the U.S. 7th Fleet in the western Pacific. Vice Adm. William Shoeb, the fleet commander said they would rejoin the fleet units in the Philippines, Okinawa and Guam.

The U.S. task force was rushed to Thailand in mid-May after the Red rebels in Laos broke a cease-fire and advanced nearly to the border of Thailand.

The Communist guerrillas did not press their offensive, however, and 11 days ago the three political factions in Laos reached an agreement and formed a coalition government under neutralist Prince Souvanna Phouma.

Infantry Rally Slated

Majority Of Governors OK Medicare

HERSHEY, Pa. (AP) — Democratic governors reported majority support today for a program of medical care for the elderly financed through social security.

But they split wide open, as usual, on the question of a declaration on civil rights.

Republican state executives, meeting in a separate caucus in this politics-packed 54th annual Governors' Conference, exactly reversed the Democrats' stand.

Gov. Wesley Powell of New Hampshire, chairman of the conference, reported a majority of the Republicans opposed to the Kennedy administration's compromise health care bill scheduled for U.S. Senate consideration. But he said they were unanimous in their pro-civil rights position.

Gov. Stephen L. R. McNichols of Colorado said a wide variety of issues was discussed at a party attended by Democratic National Chairman John M. Bailey.

Bailey is attending the conference as an aide to Gov. John Dempsey of Connecticut.

From others it was learned that the Democrats are promoting Gov. Albert D. Rosellini of Washington, now serving his second term, as new chairman of the conference to succeed Powell.

Traditionally, Democrats and Republicans alternate in the chairmanship.

Governors reported that Florida and California are bidding for next year's meeting of the organization.

Although Bailey said there was only "general" discussion of the issues at the Democratic caucus, Gov. John B. Swainson, of Michigan said a majority appeared to favor a civil rights resolution he has authored.

Asked if there was Southern opposition, he replied: "There was some restlessness, but we 'outvoted' them."

At the conference act on civil rights, which may be doubtful, northern Democrats are expected to push Swainson's resolution. He proposed that the candidate go on record as supporting equality in balloting, the holding of public office, legal protection, employment, education, housing and public facilities.

New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, who has proposed that the governors pledge themselves to leadership in the civil rights field, poked fun at one provision of the Swainson resolution.

That would "commend the president of the United States for his intention to issue, at an appropriate time, an executive order prohibiting discrimination in publicly supported housing."

Lutherans Launch New Congregation

DETROIT (AP) — A fresh ecclesiastical venture was in progress today under a gold-and-white banner bearing the cross.

The emblem is that of the newly merged Lutheran Church in America, which has concluded its constituting convention here.

In four swift-paced days of legislation and ceremony, culminating six years of planning, the new church set its organizational machinery in motion.

Its constitution sets this objective: "This church lives to be the instrument of the Holy Spirit in obedience to the commission of its Lord."

As for the effect of the four-day merger, embracing a total of 3,186,310 Lutherans, the Rev. Dr. E. E. Ryden, Minneapolis, a veteran Lutheran editor, said: "It will make the church an increasingly dominant force not only in the evangelization of America, but also in influencing its thinking and in shaping its ideals."

The convention voted unanimously to join in negotiations for setting up a new inter-Lutheran agency in America.

Similar action had been taken earlier at a convention in Cleveland by the 2,600,000-member Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod, which in the past has stood aloof from such associations.

Canadian Physicians Strike In Insurance Plan Protest

REGINA, Sask. (AP)—A strike by most of Saskatchewan's 100 private doctors swept this province of 925,000 people today as the Socialist provincial government launched the first big compulsory medical insurance plan in North America.

Charging that the plan opens the door to government control over their profession, doctors took off on vacation or quit the province to practice elsewhere.

Most doctors' offices and clinics were closed for the Dominion Day holiday today, but many displayed signs saying they would remain shut. Physicians said they would not give medical advice by telephone and would make house calls only in dire emergencies.

The government medical plan—and the doctors' strike—took effect Sunday.

Free emergency treatment was provided by about 240 volunteer doctors at 34 of the province's 120 hospitals, but officials warned they may be unable to extend this service beyond two weeks.

Authorities began moving emergency and chronic cases to the 34 hospitals. The hospitals said they were busy but were not overloaded. One fatality, an infant, was reported.

Ten-month-old Carl Derhousof, believed suffering from meningitis, died Sunday night en route from his home in Usherville to an emergency treatment center in Yorkton, 75 miles away.

The provincial government said

Probers Mum On Shootings In Blanchester

WILMINGTON, Ohio (AP)—Officials spread a cloak of secrecy around the investigation of a double shooting that left two young men wounded seriously at nearby Blanchester.

Sheriff Harold Hormell said Sunday night he and Prosecutor George Schilling were trying to nail down why a 17-year-old youth shot up a service station and fled in a car, only to give himself up in Hamilton County.

No charge was filed immediately, and the sheriff said stories conflicted on events leading to the shootings.

The two wounded men could not be questioned at first. They were taken to Clinton Memorial Hospital for emergency surgery.

Wounded were Eugene Kelly, 23, of Westboro and Robert Doan, 17, of Blanchester. Both were listed in fair condition.

The 17-year-old youth who fled the shooting gave himself up in Terrace Park, a Cincinnati suburb.

He had first run into the Blanchester police station and waited for constable B. H. Bickson.

Bickson said he knew nothing of the shootings when he stopped at the police station and heard the boy blurt out:

"I'm scared to death. A guy just got shot up the street at a filling station."

Bickson hurried to the filling station but realized from eyewitness reports that the boy in the police station had apparently been the gun-wielder.

Only One Convict Remains on Tower

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Two more convicts, including ringleader Robert Payne, came down from a water tower today at Western State Penitentiary. That left only one of the original 13 prisoners perched on the tower.

Surrendering with Payne, 29, was James Reed, 24. Still holding out was Charles Miller, 32, serving a life term for murder.

Warden James Maroney said Payne and Reed "didn't look good, their lips were puffy and swollen," but they climbed down on their own.

Guards immediately escorted the pair to the prison hospital where they were placed under treatment for exposure and the effects of thirst and lack of food.

it would call on some of the 110 doctors in the public health service if they were needed to help in the emergency.

The Medical Care Commission set up to administer the new insurance plan began bringing in doctors from outside the province to staff hospitals and to serve in communities where local doctors have walked out.

Four doctors arrived from Britain. More are expected.

The program, modeled after Britain's national health service, provides for all medical services except drugs, dental work, eye glasses, diagnosis and treatment of cancer, and hospitalization.

Hospital costs are covered under a separate government plan. Cancer treatment is provided by the province's cancer clinic.

All Saskatchewan residents except those covered by federal medical plans must register for the provincial medical care plan. Premiums are $12 a year for a single person and $24 for families. These will pay only part of the estimated $21 million annual cost of the plan. A 5 per cent sales tax and other taxes will supply the rest.

Youngstown Rackets Figure Killed by Bomb in His Auto

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — A powerful explosive charge blew William (Billy) Naples, 35, to his death Sunday night as the rackets figure sat in a car inside a North Side garage with a loaded pistol in his pocket.

His death came two years after gunmen in an automobile shot and killed his brother, S. Joseph (Sandy) Naples, 52, whom police rated a Youngstown rackets kingpin.

That crime is still unsolved, as is the auto-bomb death of James Vincent DeNiro, 39, another racket figure, on a downtown street last July 17, the last previous racket killing here.

Billy Naples, a suave-mannered man with an arrest record going back to an assault charge in 1951, had succeeded his brother, Sandy, as operator of the Center Sandwich Shop here.

His wife told police he left their home on fashionable Carlotta Street on the North Side with another man about 45 minutes before the explosion occurred, shortly after 10 p.m.

The blast shattered the front of the 6-year-old car parked in a garage and collapsed the garage roof on the car. It was midnight before Naples' body was extricated and identified. He was blown partly through the rear window of the vehicle.

An empty shotgun was found in the driveway a few feet from the garage, and police said later it had been blown from the trunk of the car and that a paper bag full of shells for it also was found.

The garage was one in a block of four that usually were left open and could have been used by anyone, police said. Neighbors who had a cookout nearby and left about 8:30 p.m. told detectives there was no car in the garage while they were there and they had seen no one near the garage.

The garage was located behind 218 W. Madison Ave. A piece of copper wire was imbedded in Naples' heart.

Negro, 10 Children Shipped to Ohio

CLEVELAND (AP) — Mr. Mamie Lee Underwood led her 10 children and a grandchild to Cleveland on a one-way bus trip paid for by a segregationist group in Centerville, Ala., because "kids should be happy and mine had no chance to be."

The 36-year-old Negro woman and her family arrived at the bus terminal Sunday after a 26-hour ride and were taken in by representatives of the Travelers Aid Society.

"I'm not mad at the white people in Bibb County (Ala.)," she said. "They were really nice to me. But you can't raise children there."

3 Dayton Shopping Area Stores Leveled by Fire

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — A fire of undetermined origin destroyed three stores in a West Dayton water damage in adjoining stores.

Firemen fought the fire in the Getysburg Drug Store, its garden annex and the Cake Box Bakery for nearly three hours before bringing it under control. No one was reported hurt and no estimate of the damage was announced.

Social Security Tieup Gets OK In Both Parties

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate began debate today on one of the momentous issues of the 1962 session—health care for the aged financed under the Social Security System.

Assistant Democratic Leader Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota told a reporter he was confident a bipartisan proposal to establish such a system would clear the Senate by the end of the week, despite a Fourth of July break Wednesday.

Sponsors claimed a good margin for the health program and said a number of Republicans would vote for it. However, many Democrats remain opposed to Social Security financing.

Even if the measure clears the Senate it would face rough days ahead. The House Ways and Means Committee has refused to act on the administration measure for more than a year and obstacles to House action would be formidable.

The House had arranged to pass an atomic energy authorization bill today or Tuesday, but it was decided to put the measure off until next week. This left the House with no major business scheduled this week, and it plans to be in adjournment most of the week. The Senate will skip work only on Wednesday.

A compromise sugar act extension bill, passed by the House Saturday, also comes up in the Senate today. The measure may be cleared for President Kennedy's signature by nightfall.

The Social Security health plan will be offered by Sen. Clinton P. Anderson, D-N.M., as an amendment to a House-passed bill amending the public assistance law.

6 San Quentin Cons Give Up Escape Try

SAN QUENTIN, Calif. (AP) — Six condemned murderers saved their way out of the cells on San Quentin Prison's death row early today, clubbed two guards and held them hostage for three hours before surrendering meekly after prison officials lobbed tear gas into the cell block.

The guards were hospitalized with head injuries after their release.

Associate Warden Dale B. Frady, in an interview, said the prisoners had saved their bars over a period of time and disguised the cuts.

Frady said the hack saw they had somehow smuggled into the row was found after their surrender.

The Lithuanian-born doctor was rushed to Hillingdon Hospital where Scotland Yard detectives stood guard over his room.

A British Home Office spokesman made clear that Soblen, who was deported Sunday from Israel, would not be allowed to stay in Britain.

"As soon as Dr. Soblen is fit enough to travel, he will have to leave the country," the spokesman said.

Soblen forfeited $100,000 bail and fled from the United States last week after losing an appeal against the life sentence given him for spying for the Soviet Union during World War II. He was traced to Tel Aviv. Israeli authorities expelled him on the grounds that he entered the country on false documents — the Canadian passport of his late brother.

Soblen was secretly bundled aboard an Israeli airliner at Lydda Airport Sunday morning for Athens and transferred there to a chartered El Al airliner returning 152 Americans from vacations in Israel.

U.S. Chief Marshal James J. P. McShane, 53, who had flown to Tel Aviv to bring back Soblen, and an Israeli doctor accompanied the convicted spy.

Other sources said Soblen was out of danger though still too weak to travel. He lost two pints of blood. Promptly administered blood transfusions restored a measure of his strength.

Soblen suffers from leukemia—cancer of the blood—and doctors said last August he had less than a year to live.

Soblen, accompanied by a U.S. marshal, made his suicide attempt aboard an El Al Airlines Boeing 707 over the English Channel as the big jet approached London for a routine stop.

glasses, diagnosis and treatment of cancer, and hospitalization.

Hospital costs are covered under a separate government plan. Cancer treatment is provided by the province's cancer clinic.

All Saskatchewan residents except those covered by federal medical plans must register for the provincial medical care plan. Premiums are $12 a year for a single person and $24 for families. These will pay only part of the estimated $21 million annual cost of the plan. A 5 per cent sales tax and other taxes will supply the rest.

Youngstown Rackets Figure Killed by Bomb in His Auto

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — A powerful explosive charge blew William (Billy) Naples, 35, to his death Sunday night as the rackets figure sat in a car inside a North Side garage with a loaded pistol in his pocket.

His death came two years after gunmen in an automobile shot and killed his brother, S. Joseph (Sandy) Naples, 32, whom police rated a Youngstown rackets kingpin.

That crime is still unsolved, as is the auto-bomb death of James Vincent DeNiro, 39, another rackets figure, on a downtown street last July 17, the last previous racket killing here.

Billy Naples, a suave-mannered man with an arrest record going back to an assault charge in 1951, had succeeded his brother, Sandy, as operator of the Center Sandwich Shop here.

His wife told police he left their home on fashionable Carolla Street on the North Side with another man about 45 minutes before the explosion occurred, shortly after 10 p.m.

The blast shattered the front of the 6-year-old car parked in a garage and collapsed the garage roof on the car. It was midnight before Naples' body was extricated and identified. He was blown partly through the rear window of the vehicle.

An empty shotgun was found in the driveway a few feet from the garage, and police said later it had been blown from the trunk of the car and that a paper bag full of shells for it also was found.

The garage was one in a block of four that usually were left open and could have been used by anyone, police said. Neighbors who had a cookout nearby and left about 8:30 p.m. told detectives there was no car in the garage while they were there and they had seen no one near the garage.

The garage was located behind 218 W. Madison Ave.

A piece of copper wire was imbedded in Naples' heart.

Canadian Physicians Strike In Insurance Plan Protest

REGINA, Sask. (AP)—A strike by most of Saskatchewan's 100 private doctors swept this province of 925,000 people today as the Socialist provincial government launched the first big compulsory medical insurance plan in North America.

Charging that the plan opens the door to government control over their profession, doctors took off on vacation or quit the province to practice elsewhere.

Most doctors' offices and clinics were closed for the Dominion Day holiday today, but many displayed signs saying they would remain shut. Physicians said they would not give medical advice by telephone and would make house calls only in dire emergencies.

The government medical plan—and the doctors' strike—took effect Sunday.

Free emergency treatment was provided by about 240 volunteer doctors at 34 of the province's 120 hospitals, but officials warned they may be unable to extend this service beyond two weeks.

Authorities began moving emergency and chronic cases to the 34 hospitals. The hospitals said they were busy but were not overloaded. One fatality, an infant, was reported.

Ten-month-old Carl Derhousoff, believed suffering from meningitis, died Sunday night en route from his home in Usherville to an emergency treatment center in Yorkton, 75 miles away.

The provincial government said

it would call on some of the 110 doctors in the public health service if they were needed to help in the emergency.

The Medical Care Commission set up to administer the new insurance plan began bringing in doctors from outside the province to staff hospitals and to serve in communities where local doctors have walked out.

Four doctors arrived from Britain. More are expected.

Social Security Tieup Gets OK In Both Parties

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate began debate today on one of the momentous issues of the 1962 session—health care for the aged financed under the Social Security System.

Assistant Democratic Leader Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota told a reporter he was confident a bipartisan proposal to establish such a system would clear the Senate by the end of the week, despite a Fourth of July break Wednesday.

Sponsors claimed a good margin for the health program and said a number of Republicans would vote for it. However, many Republicans and some Southern Democrats remain opposed to Social Security financing.

Even if the measure clears the Senate it would face rough days ahead. The House Ways and Means Committee has refused to act on the administration measure for more than a year and obstacles to House action would be formidable.

The House had arranged to pass an atomic energy authorization bill today or Tuesday, but it was decided to put the measure off until next week. This left the House with no major business scheduled this week, and it plans to be in adjournment most of the week. The Senate will skip work only on Wednesday.

A compromise sugar act extension bill, passed by the House Saturday, also comes up in the Senate today. The measure may be cleared for President Kennedy's signature by nightfall.

The Social Security health plan will be offered by Sen. Clinton P. Anderson, D-N.M., as an amendment to a House-passed bill amending the public assistance law.

6 San Quentin Cons Give Up Escape Try

SAN QUENTIN, Calif. (AP) — Six condemned murderers saved their way out of the cells on San Quentin Prison's death row early today, clubbed two guards and held them hostage for three hours before surrendering meekly after prison officials lobbed tear gas into the cell block.

The guards were hospitalized with head injuries after their release.

Associate Warden Dale B. Frady, in an interview, said the prisoners had sawed their bars over a period of time and disguised the cuts.

Frady said the hack saw they had somehow smuggled into the row was found after their surrender.

The Lithuanian-born doctor was rushed to Hillingdon Hospital where Scotland Yard detectives stood guard over his room.

A British Home Office spokesman made clear that Soblen, who was deported Sunday from Israel, would not be allowed to stay in Britain.

"As soon as Dr. Soblen is fit enough to travel, he will have to leave the country," the spokesman said.

Soblen forfeited $100,000 bail and fled from the United States last week after losing an appeal against the life sentence given him for spying for the Soviet Union during World War II. He was traced to Tel Aviv. Israeli authorities expelled him on the grounds that he entered the country on false documents — the Canadian passport of his late brother.

Soblen was secretly bundled aboard an Israeli airliner at Lydda Airport Sunday morning for Athens and transferred there to a chartered El Al airliner returning 152 Americans from vacations in Israel.

U.S. Chief Marshal James J. P. McShane, 53, who had flown to Tel Aviv to bring back Soblen, and an Israeli doctor accompanied the convicted spy.

Runaway Spy Is Recovering After Trying Suicide on Plane

LONDON (AP) — Runaway spy Dr. Robert A. Soblen was reported out of danger today after trying to kill himself aboard a crowded Israeli airliner returning him to an American prison.

The bail-jumping, 62-year-old psychiatrist, sentenced to life imprisonment for spying for the Soviet Union, slashed his wrists and stabbed himself in the abdomen with a steak knife Sunday during a flight back to New York after being refused political asylum in Israel.

A bulletin issued at Hillingdon Hospital said: Soblen's condition has improved, and it is unlikely that an operation will be necessary.

Other sources said Soblen was out of danger though still too weak to travel. He lost two pints of blood. Promptly administered blood transfusions restored a measure of his strength.

Soblen suffers from leukemia—cancer of the blood—and doctors said last August he had less than a year to live.

Soblen, accompanied by a U.S. marshal, made his suicide attempt aboard an El Al Airlines Boeing 707 over the English Channel as the big jet approached London for a routine stop.

Firemen fought the fire in the Gotsburg Drug Store, its garden annex and the Cake Bakery for nearly three hours before bringing it under control. Stock Market Trading Slack

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market took it easy early this afternoon, resting after last week's rebound, the biggest advance in two years. Prices were mixed and trading slack.

Showing a minimum change, The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .10 at 209.60 with industrials up .30, rails off .10, and utilities up .10.

Changes of most key stocks were fractional. Here and there were gains or losses of a point or so.

Spotty business news over the weekend and the fact that the week's trading will be interrupted Wednesday by the July 4 holiday were caution-breeding factors.

not to delay the House bill for long because a number of its provisions extend programs which expired Saturday midnight, the end of fiscal 1962.

Anderson's proposal, worked out after prolonged negotiation with five Republican senators who agree to co-sponsor it along with 17 Democrats, contains the same benefits as the administration bill pushed earlier in this Congress.

These include hospitalization, nursing home care, home health services and outpatient hospital diagnostic services.

They would be financed by a one-fourth per cent increase in the Social Security payroll tax on both employers and employees and by raising the taxable base from $4,800 to $5,200 a year.

Heart Fails Woman In Thunderstorm

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—An elderly Toledo woman, believed the victim of lightning, died of natural causes, the Lucas County coroner ruled Sunday night.

Mrs. Mary Rzeckowski, 68, collapsed as she dashed out of her home with an umbrella to help some children out of a car during a thunderstorm Saturday.

Her heart stopped beating, but she was revived at St. Vincent's Hospital with chest massage and oxygen.

Dr. Harry Mignerey, county coroner, said the woman died of a heart malfunction, probably brought on by the excitement as she dashed out into the rain.

Rhodes' Office Tells of Savings

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — State Auditor James A. Rhodes said today his office closed out the bookkeeping year last month with an annual saving of $42,968 to Ohio taxpayers.

The Republican gubernatorial nominee said this marks the ninth consecutive year that his office has spent less than the legislature provided. Total savings during his tenure in office total $340,257, Rhodes said.

The auditor pointed out that the record was achieved despite a cut of $17,637 in legislative appropriations below the total for the previous year.

The War for the Union 1861-65 in Pictures

No. 187 No war keeps many private individuals from enjoying themselves. If theaters, race tracks, athletic stadiums continue offering diversions, they will be well attended.

In New York, a century ago, P. T. Barnum's "Great American Museum" in Broadway was attracting crowds to see "General Tom Thumb" and other freaks. There was high demand for tickets to "Mazeppa," a play starring Adah Menken—the name adopted by Dolores Adios Fuentes of New Orleans after she married a musician, John Isaacs Menken.

Menken was the first of her four husbands. Charles Dickens, Dante Gabriel Rossetti, Algernon Charles Swinburne and Henry Wadsworth Longfellow were among friends she cultivated meanwhile. Alexandre Dumas Sr. was an admirer she wanted to marry.

Adah had dined with an opera company at 11, penned a book of verse, and taught Latin and French in a girls' finishing school in New Orleans before she became a star on the dramatic stage. She was the first U.S.A. born actress to play with notable success in London and Paris. Her most popular performances were in "Mazeppa"—a melodrama based on Lord Byron's poem about a legendary Cossack chief.

Adah played the male lead without trying to look like one when the role required her to be semi-stripped of her clothing and lashed to a horse by the villain. The reputation that had preceded her return to her homeland, and the effect of Adah's appearance in the flesh, made "Mazeppa" irresistible to sightseeing theatergoers.

Longfellow could have had a good excuse for being one of the Stage Door Johnnies and Henriettes at "Mazeppa." Longfellow was a professor of classical languages, and Adah taught herself Greek well enough to make an original translation of "The Iliad."

Man Not Involved In House Fire

Arthur R. Brewer, 21, of Dearborn Ave., involved in the burning of several boxcars last week, was not connected with the December 1960 fire that destroyed the Charles Wolfe residence on Weldon Ave., as was earlier reported.

Brewer was mistaken Friday for an unidentified person, whom Circleville Police are investigating in connection with the 1960 incident.

Brewer, appearing before Municipal Judge Sterling Lamb Saturday, pleaded guilty to charges of malicious destruction of three Pennsylvania Railroad boxcars. He was bound to the Pickaway County Grand Jury under a $5,000 bond.

Fighting Neighbor over Dog Can Get Very Complicated

WASHINGTON (AP) — Don't fight with your neighbor over a dog. Your wife might answer the door some day and find a mail-order sweetheart, calling for you.

Federal Prison Director J. V. Bennett told a House Appropriations subcommittee last Jan. 25 about such a fellow.

Here is Bennett's story in testimony released today:

"In Baltimore, there was a fellow who was a much-decorated paratrooper and got into an altercation with his neighbor next door over a dog. Well, that caused a fight between him and his neighbor and a third neighbor, so they beat up this fellow, kicked out his teeth, sent him to the hospital for about two weeks, and apparently while he was in the hospital he mullied over how he would try to get even with these fellows.

"So, when he came out, he went around to see the police and they would not do anything about it.

"The first thing he did was to call up the Alcoholics Anonymous group and tell them that his next door neighbor was in need of treatment, so they sent around a task force to look after him. Then he began ordering things through the mails and having them sent to his neighbor.

"He ordered a big fruit cake from Fort Worth sent to a lady down the street, and signed this man's name to it and then she, in turn, called up this man's wife and thanked him for his generosity, saying what a fine person he was.

"Then he began ordering other things, but the crowning blow was that he had carried on some correspondence with a lady whose name he had gotten out of one of those lonely hearts clubs, and in the name of this fellow next door, he invited her to come and call on him at his home.

"Sure enough, she showed up in all her finery, apparently, and of course, she was met at the door at the right time by the man's wife. There you have it."

not to delay the House bill for long because a number of its provisions extend programs which expired Saturday midnight, the end of fiscal 1962.

Anderson's proposal, worked out after prolonged negotiation with five Republican senators who agree to co-sponsor it along with 17 Democrats, contains the same benefits as the administration bill pushed earlier in this Congress.

These include hospitalization, nursing home care, home health services and outpatient hospital diagnostic services.

They would be financed by a one-fourth per cent increase in the Social Security payroll tax on both employers and employees and by raising the taxable base from $4,800 to $5,200 a year.

Heart Fails Woman In Thunderstorm

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—An elderly Toledo woman, believed the victim of lightning, died of natural causes, the Lucas County coroner ruled Sunday night.

Mrs. Mary Rzeckowski, 68, collapsed as she dashed out of her home with an umbrella to help some children out of a car during a thunderstorm Saturday.

Her heart stopped beating, but she was revived at St. Vincent's Hospital with chest massage and oxygen.

Dr. Harry Mignerey, county coroner, said the woman died of a heart malfunction, probably brought on by the excitement as she dashed out into the rain.

Rhodes' Office Tells of Savings

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—State Auditor James A. Rhodes said today his office closed out the book-keeping year last month with an annual saving of $42,968 to Ohio taxpayers.

The Republican gubernatorial nominee said this marks the ninth consecutive year that his office has spent less than the legislature provided. Total savings during his tenure in office total $340,257, Rhodes said.

The auditor pointed out that the record was achieved despite a cut of $17,637 in legislative appropriations below the total for the previous year.

FISH FRYERS — Clyde Hedges and Cecil Eveland preside over one of the six furnaces at the Tarlton Firemen's Fish Fry. Carl Frye is bringing in a fresh supply to put in the "pan."

Rural Fish Fry Is a Way of Life

By STEVE JONES

Take a thousand pounds of fish, 135 loaves of bread and a few other ingredients, like gallons of potato salad and baked beans, several bushels of tomatoes, cakes, pies, ice cream and you come up with a rural tradition — a Fish Fry.

This tradition can be traced back to Biblical times.

In modern times it is usually a community or organization sponsored fund raising function. It is a seasonal affair and the season is here. Hot dry weather is an absolute necessity.

Occasionally the air at a fish fry is contaminated with the smell of fried chicken or baked ham, but the majority of the people attend for a sizz'ing hot fish sandwich. A real die-in-the-wool fish fry enthusiast would never think of eating anything but fish, whether it be carp or Lake Erie perch. At home he probably turns up his nose in disgust if his wife places even the finest of lake trout on the table.

At the Tarlton Firemen's Fish Fry recently, six big furnaces were kept busy frying the 1,000 pounds of fish needed to feed a multitude of enthusiasts.

Nearly 75 people worked at a breakneck pace from 4 to 9 p.m. serving hungry farmers, politicians, businessmen and their families.

The Tarlton City Hall was the dining room. Tables accommodating 168 persons were set inside and laden with fish, potato salad, baked beans, apple sauce and bread. Girls carrying pitchers of iced tea kept plenty of the cool liquid available to wash down the steaming hot fish.

A small army of men was busy frying fish and delivering them to the tables. Their wives labored valiantly on the stage of the Tows Hall washing dishes so fresh place settings would be immediately available when needed.

Nearly 700 people paid their buck and a half to get all the fish they could eat. At the peak of the evening's affair there was a line nearly half a block long waiting to stuff their gullets with fish.

MANY others, frightened by the prospect of waiting in the long line — you never know when the fish supply might be exhausted — went directly to the booth housing the frying furnaces to get their fish. Of course they sacrificed the "trimmings," but they were sure of hot fish.

The rural fish fry is a must for politicians, and all the candidates for local office make their appearance.

It's a place where old acquaintances can be renewed, the world situation can be straightened out and crops planted, cultivated and harvested.

A fish fry is a way of life.

TODAY In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Monday, July 2 the 183rd day of 1962. There are 182 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this day in 1777, Vermont's independence was proclaimed and its constitution was adopted. Until the American Revolution, Vermont was known as the New Hampshire Grants, although it was claimed by New York.

On this date:

In 1807, President Jefferson issued a proclamation requiring all British warships to leave U.S. waters.

In 1867, the first elevated railroad in the U.S. was opened in New York City.

In 1881, President Garfield was mortally wounded by Charles Guiteau.

In 1937, Amelia Earhart Putnam and her navigator, Frederick Noonan, disappeared over the Pacific on a projected round-the-world flight and were never heard from again.

Today's birthdays: U.S. Judge Thurgood Marshall is 54. King Olaf of Norway is 59. Thought for today:

Beware, as long as you live, of judging people by their appearances—Jean de la Fontaine.

Ohioan Killed, 4 Hurt in Nebraska

DUNNING, Neb. (AP) — Four Ohioans are recuperating in a Broken Bow, Neb., hospital from injuries suffered in a two-car accident in which an Upper Sandusky, Ohio, man died.

Most seriously hurt is Mrs. Mabel Pfeifer, 56, wife of William Pfeifer, 59, who died in the collision. Mrs. Dorothy Schmidt, 53; her husband, William, 54, and their daughter, Darlene, 12, all of Lovell, Wyandot County.

A physician at the hospital said all four "are doing pretty good."

The Schmidts and Pfeifers had left Upper Sandusky June 1 on a motor trip and were returning home from the Seattle World's Fair when the accident occurred Saturday.

New Trade Policy, Stock Rally Are Hailed

NEW YORK (AP)—A big step toward a new foreign trade policy, a stock market rally and some encouraging economic developments marked the last week of the first half of 1962.

It was a week which sees an end to a fiscal year in which the federal government piled up a $7-billion deficit with the prospect of a $4-billion deficit in the forthcoming year.

The House of Representatives passed and sent to the Senate the trade expansion bill, giving President Kennedy his biggest legislative victory of the year.

The bill is intended to strengthen the dollar and bring the United States into closer economic alliance with Western Europe by giving the President power to slash tariffs up to 50 per cent. To alleviate any resulting distress it would provide loans, tax concessions and technical aid to injured businesses and adjustment payments while workers are being retrained.

The stock market wound up the first half with two days of consecutive advances, the first time it had been able to accomplish this since the recovery which followed the worst slump since 1929 on "Black Monday," May 28.

The rally—strong on Thursday and moderate on Friday—brought encouragement to Wall Street. Some brokers predicted it would carry through to a traditional summer rally but others were cautious about concluding that the more than six-month decline had hit bottom.

Volume on the stock exchange during the past week rose to 25,774,760 shares from the previous week's 20,812,150. Bond sales on the stock exchange totaled $46,056,000 (par value) in the latest week compared with $38,542,000 the week before.

Two of the shiniest spots on the economic scene were the construction and automobile industries. Even so, the economy at the 1962 halfway mark wasn't moving at as fast a pace as when the year began.

President Kennedy, commenting on the question of an income tax cut this year, said at his news conference:

"We will continue to watch the economy. There are good signs and signs which are not so good."

Later, the U.S. Chamber of Commerce urged immediate income and corporation tax cuts totaling $5.5 billion to $7.5 billion to stimulate business. Organized labor earlier had called for immediate income tax cuts.

President Kennedy has said that he would propose an across-the-board tax cut effective next year.

Construction activity bounded to a record high in June, the Commerce Department reported. Total spending for new construction put in place reached an annual rate of almost $63 billion, up $2.2 billion over the May rate.

For the first six months new construction totaled $27.7 billion, a gain of six per cent over the $26.1 billion outlay in the 1961 period.

As an indication of the future, contract awards in May totaled $4,008,718,000, a gain of 14 per cent over a year earlier.

Automobile sales in the middle

10 days of June were the best for the period in seven years. Dealers delivered 205,481 American-built new passenger cars, a rate 17 per cent above a year ago. However, this was 4 per cent below the mid-May pace.

Car production for the year passed the 3.5 million mark during the week. Output for the week recovered to an estimated 127,000 cars after settlement of a strike against a Ford Motor Co. stamping plant which put assembly lines out of action. Production during the week was down to 107,575.

New statistics from the Commerce Department—covering the month of May—showed small climbs for employment, personal income and industrial output.

On the other hand, new orders received by durable goods factories were unchanged from April and retail sales were off a little from record-breaking April.

Steel production during the week dipped to its lowest level in more than 16 months with output of 1,563,000 tons, off 1.5 per cent from the previous week.

Most steel executives expect demand to continue its decline in July. As a result, some steel plants will extend the time of vacation closings.

Sensitive since the Kennedy ad-

19-Gun Salute Given Departing Army Boss

WASHINGTON (AT)—With a 19-gun salute and four ruffles and flourishes by the Army band, the Army bade an official farewell to Secretary Elvis J. Stahr.

The ceremony Thursday was at Ft. Myer, Va., where a battle group of the 3rd Infantry paraded in review. On hand were Stahr's successor, Cyrus Vance, Gen. Lyman Lemnitzer, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, and Gen. George Decker, Army chief of staff.

Stahr is to become president of Indiana University. His resignation is effective Saturday.

ministration forced it to roll back a price increase, the steel industry winced under two new developments. The Justice Department subpoenaed the expense account records and private telephone numbers of executives of major companies. This was a part of a New York grand jury investigation of alleged price-fixing. And Sen. Estes Kefauver, D-Tenn., said industry leaders will be summoned before the Senate Antitrust and Monopoly subcommittee for questioning about prices, profits, costs and productivity.

The United Steelworkers of America signed a new labor contract with major aluminum producers which was similar to that reached with the steel industry last spring. It provides for improved fringe benefits but no wage increase.

Cost-of-living prices in May remained unchanged from April after three consecutive monthly increases, but the Labor Department predicted a rise for June.

July 4 Labeled 'Extra Danger'

CHICAGO (AP)—National Safety Council experts have hung the "extra danger" sign on the Independence Day celebration.

It's a one-day holiday. On such brief occasions motorists cover more ground in less time than in longer periods.

"There's an extreme amount of 'pushing' type of travel and night driving," said Bob Andrieff. "That makes it more hazardous."

Andrieff and the council's chief statistician, Gene Miller, recently studied past performances, estimated mileage, checked previous holidays and examined current trends in motor vehicle fatalities.

They figured that between 110 and 150 Americans could lose their lives in traffic accidents in the 30-hour period that begins at 6 p.m. Tuesday and will end at midnight Wednesday.

For years the prophets came up with a single preholiday figure. Sometimes it was almost on the nose. For instance they predicted 240 deaths on streets and highways in the two-day observance of Memorial Day, 1953. The actual toll was 241.

Permanent Job

RESERVE, Kan. (AP)—John L. Thomas, 90 years old, figures he has a permanent job in farming. He's been at it for nearly 60 consecutive years.

To prove he isn't coasting, he took care of a small herd of yearlings on his farm last winter. In addition, he hauled cattle feed from Verdon, Neb., 17 miles away. And before this spring's planting season he painted his farm home.

Born in Wales, Thomas came to Kansas in 1903 and has been farming ever since.

But a check back through a 14-year, 70-holiday span showed that single-figure predictions missed the actual totals by an average of 41 deaths, or 12 per cent.

Council statisticians now reckon how many may die if motorists are sober and careful and how many may perish if they aren't. In between the two figures lies the misty area of human behavior — which, they said, isn't predictable.

Records demonstrate that more people are killed in traffic during holiday periods than at other times. During the last five Independence Day celebrations traffic fatalities averaged between 4.2 and 5.7 per hour. In a nonholiday period in July they average 2.3 per hour.

State's Revenue Climbs To All-Time Record High

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—State revenue from all sources hit an all-time high in the fiscal year ending at midnight Saturday, the Auditor's Office reported.

Income amounted to $1,694,327,169 (B)—an increase of $83,855,723 from the previous high of $1,610,471,446 in 1960. State revenue for fiscal 1960-61 was $1,551,664,811.

The Auditor's Office said figures on expenditures for this fiscal year will be available next week.

It was a week which sees an end to a fiscal year in which the federal government piled up a $7-billion deficit with the prospect of a $4-billion deficit in the forthcoming year.

The House of Representatives passed and sent to the Senate the trade expansion bill, giving President Kennedy his biggest legislative victory of the year.

The bill is intended to strengthen the dollar and bring the United States into closer economic alliance with Western Europe by giving the President power to slash tariffs up to 50 per cent. To alleviate any resulting distress it would provide loans, tax concessions and technical aid to injured businesses and adjustment payments while workers are being retrained.

The stock market wound up the first half with two days of consecutive advances, the first time it had been able to accomplish this since the recovery which followed the worst slump since 1929 on "Black Monday," May 28.

The rally—strong on Thursday and moderate on Friday—brought encouragement to Wall Street. Some brokers predicted it would carry through to a traditional summer rally but others were cautious about concluding that the more than six-month decline had hit bottom.

Volume on the stock exchange during the past week rose to 25,774,760 shares from the previous week's 20,812,150. Bond sales on the stock exchange totaled $46,056,000 (par value) in the last week compared with $38,542,000 the week before.

Two of the shiniest spots on the economic scene were the construction and automobile industries. Even so, the economy at the 1962 halfway mark wasn't moving at as fast a pace as when the year began.

President Kennedy, commenting on the question of an income tax cut this year, said at his news conference:

"We will continue to watch the economy. There are good signs and signs which are not so good."

Later, the U.S. Chamber of Commerce urged immediate income and corporation tax cuts totaling $5.5 billion to $7.5 billion to stimulate business. Organized labor earlier had called for immediate income tax cuts.

President Kennedy has said that he would propose an across-the-board tax cut effective next year.

Construction activity bounded to a record high in June, the Commerce Department reported. Total spending for new construction put in place reached an annual rate of almost $63 billion, up $2.2 billion over the May rate.

For the first six months new construction totaled $27.7 billion, a gain of six per cent over the $26.1 billion outlay in the 1961 period.

As an indication of the future, contract awards in May totaled $4,008,718,000, a gain of 14 per cent over a year earlier.

Automobile sales in the middle

10 days of June were the best for the period in seven years. Dealers delivered 205,481 American-built new passenger cars, a rate 17 per cent above a year ago. However, this was 4 per cent below the mid-May pace.

Car production for the year passed the 3.5 million mark during the week. Output for the week recovered to an estimated 127,000 cars after settlement of a strike against a Ford Motor Co. stamping plant which put assembly lines out of action. Production during the week was down to 107,575.

New statistics from the Commerce Department—covering the month of May—showed small climbs for employment, personal income and industrial output.

On the other hand, new orders received by durable goods factories were unchanged from April and retail sales were off a little from record-breaking April.

Steel production during the week dipped to its lowest level in more than 16 months with output of 1,563,000 tons, off 1.5 per cent from the previous week.

Most steel executives expect demand to continue its decline in July. As a result, some steel plants will extend the time of vacation closings.

19-Gun Salute Given Departing Army Boss

WASHINGTON (AT)—With a 19-gun salute and four ruffles and flourishes by the Army band, the Army bade an official farewell to Secretary Elvis J. Stahr.

The ceremony Thursday was at Ft. Myer, Va., where a battle group of the 3rd Infantry paraded in review. On hand were Stahr's successor, Cyrus Vance, Gen. Lyman Lemnitzer, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, and Gen. George Decker, Army chief of staff.

Stahr is to become president of Indiana University. His resignation is effective Saturday.

ministration forced it to roll back a price increase, the steel industry winced under two new developments. The Justice Department subpoenaed the expense account records and private telephone numbers of executives of major companies. This was a part of a New York grand jury investigation of alleged price-fixing. And Sen. Estes Kefauver, D-Tenn., said industry leaders will be summoned before the Senate Antitrust and Monopoly subcommittee for questioning about prices, profits, costs and productivity.

The United Steelworkers of America signed a new labor contract with major aluminum producers which was similar to that reached with the steel industry last spring. It provides for improved fringe benefits but no wage increase.

Cost-of-living prices in May remained unchanged from April after three consecutive monthly increases, but the Labor Department predicted a rise for June.

July 4 Labeled 'Extra Danger'

CHICAGO (AP)—National Safety Council experts have hung the "extra danger" sign on the Independence Day celebration.

It's a one-day holiday. On such brief occasions motorists cover more ground in less time than in longer periods.

"There's an extreme amount of 'pushing' type of travel and night driving," said Bob Andrieff, "That makes it more hazardous."

Andrieff and the council's chief statistician, Gene Miller, recently studied past performances, estimated mileage, checked previous holidays and examined current trends in motor vehicle fatalities. They figured that between 110 and 150 Americans could lose their lives in traffic accidents in the 30-hour period that begins at 6 p.m. Tuesday and will end at midnight Wednesday.

For years the prophets came up with a single preholiday figure. Sometimes it was almost on the nose. For instance they predicted 240 deaths on streets and highways in the two-day observance of Memorial Day, 1953. The actual toll was 241.

Permanent Job

RESERVE, Kan. (AP)—John L. Thomas, 90 years old, figures he has a permanent job in farming. He's been at it for nearly 60 consecutive years.

To prove he isn't coasting, he took care of a small herd of yearlings on his farm last winter. In addition, he hauled cattle feed from Verdon, Neb., 17 miles away. And before this spring's planting season he painted his farm home.

Born in Wales, Thomas came to Kansas in 1903 and has been farming ever since.

But a check back through a 14-year, 70-holiday span showed that single-figure predictions missed the actual totals by an average of 41 deaths, or 12 per cent.

Council statisticians now reckon how many may die if motorists are sober and careful and how many may perish if they aren't. In between the two figures lies the misty area of human behavior — which, they said, isn't predictable.

Records demonstrate that more people are killed in traffic during holiday periods than at other times. During the last five Independence Day celebrations traffic fatalities averaged between 4.2 and 5.7 per hour. In a nonholiday period in July they average 2.3 per hour.

State's Revenue Climbs To All-Time Record High

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—State revenue from all sources hit an all-time high in the fiscal year ending at midnight Saturday, the Auditor's Office reported.

Income amounted to $1,694,327,169 (B)—an increase of $83,855,723 from the previous high of $1,610,471,446 in 1960. State revenue for fiscal 1960-61 was $1,551,664,811.

The Auditor's Office said figures on expenditures for this fiscal year will be available next week.

Shelter Apathy Again

A House subcommittee's decision to delete the entire fund for a nationwide fallout shelter program from the administration's plans is a measure of the distance the American people have come from the latest war scare.

It also is a measure of the wide swing of this nation's erratic public policy in the matter of civil defense. And perhaps a measure of the Kennedy administration's failure to pursue a consistent policy in protection of the public against a nuclear war.

The House subcommittee on independent offices appropriations cut $460 million out of the $695 million civil defense program. This was done on the grounds that the House Armed Services Committee had not held or even scheduled hearing on the bill to authorize the fallout shelters.

During the Berlin crisis of last summer there was a public outcry for protection against nuclear attack. The President proposed subsidies to help provide and equip shelters in public places — schools, government buildings, etc.

But as soon as the Soviet Union's threats quieted down, public concern seemed to evaporate. And President Kennedy has been pointedly quiet on the subject. He has not publicly urged enactment of the program in recent months.

In the light of this, it is not surprising that Congress has turned apathetic. But what is needed is a consistent, long-range program not tied to the crises which will occur and recur as they have in the past.

Honey Not Sticky Now

An agreement has been reached between Brazil and the United States that the owners - stockholders of two American firms expropriated recently by the Brazilian government will be reimbursed.

The plan provides a cash payment up to 10 per cent of the agreed price; payment of further installments out of company earnings, and reinvestment of the payments in "approved new enterprises beneficial to the economic and social development of the country."

This does not sound so bad, considering that in some countries there are no payments at all. President Kennedy is reported to have approved it because it will provide help for Alliance for Progress projects in Brazil — the "approved new enterprises."

Good Idea if It Works

The U. S. State Department is reported fooling around with electronic computers in an effort to find whether the gadgets will be more reliable than human beings in solving policy problems.

In a way, it would be nice if the thing works. Then crises could be blamed on power failures or mechanical malfunction. At best, there might be no crises at all

The Brazilian government's expressed hope that "this measure will not create an unfavorable climate for new foreign investments" seems to be on a shaky foundation.

Investors who shared ownership of American & Foreign Power Co. and International Telephone and Telegraph Co. (the two expropriated utilities) are unlikely to find any situation where their investments are grabbed and then handed back to them, in part, on a condition of reinvestment in other concerns to be constituted a "favorable climate."

Brazil may not let those American dollars get away, but the honey provided isn't sticky enough to catch many more.

providing other countries had mechanical brains at work, too.

If it all works out, maybe some of the machines should be procured for the Agriculture Department. They would have no use for airplane rides or suits of clothes, and they might even be able to figure out what to do about wheat.

Double Value for Highway Money

Other states could emulate Kansas, which is engaged in an undertaking to make itself a "land of 10,000 lakes." The latest move in this direction is the Kansas highway commission's new policy to cooperate in using highway landfills for dams to provide ponds and lakes wherever possible.

A number of these ponds and lakes already have been built, some in cooperation with private landowners and some with the help of the state fish and game commission. They provide water for fishing and boating as well as helping with conservation.

What this amounts to is getting double value for highway money spent, in many instances.

To Hold Job, Pacify Boss

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Pleading the boss is still the best way to hold on to your job. Eight of 10 men discharged are fired not because of inefficiency, but simply because they can't get along with their employers.

A DISTINGUISHED professor at Yale rented a new apartment in New Haven and the moving man had to lug fourteen cases of books up five flights of stairs. When the task was completed he mopped his brow and asked testily, "Hey, Prof, why didn't you read all these books before you moved?"

A deacon—richest self-made man in the tiny community—objected vociferously to this frivolous "squandering of resources." "Who needs a chandelier?" he thundered. "First, no one can spell it to order it. Second, no one can play it. And third, what we really need is more light."

Inside You and Yours

By BURTON H. FERN, M. D.
You've just fished a limp body from the murky depths! What's next?

Artificial respiration — now! Seconds count. Your victim's teetering on the brink.

Stick your middle finger in his mouth. Quickly sweep away food, froth, chewing gum — any debris blocking the passage.

With your victim flat on his back, stuff towels, clothing — anything handy — under his shoulders. Now his head drops back, opening the air passage straight and wide.

Let someone else loosen his clothes, warm him and call for the police or fire emergency squad.

Use both middle fingers to pull his jaw forward and one hand to keep it forward. Start mouth-to-mouth breathing immediately.

Take a deep breath. Seal your lips around his and pinch his nostrils. Blow gently and steadily until his chest rises.

Then remove your mouth and let his lungs empty. Pressing between his ribs and navel helps him exhale. If his jaw's clenched, blow air into his nose.

For children, seal your lips around nose and mouth. When mouth-to-mouth breathing's impossible, use your victim's arms.

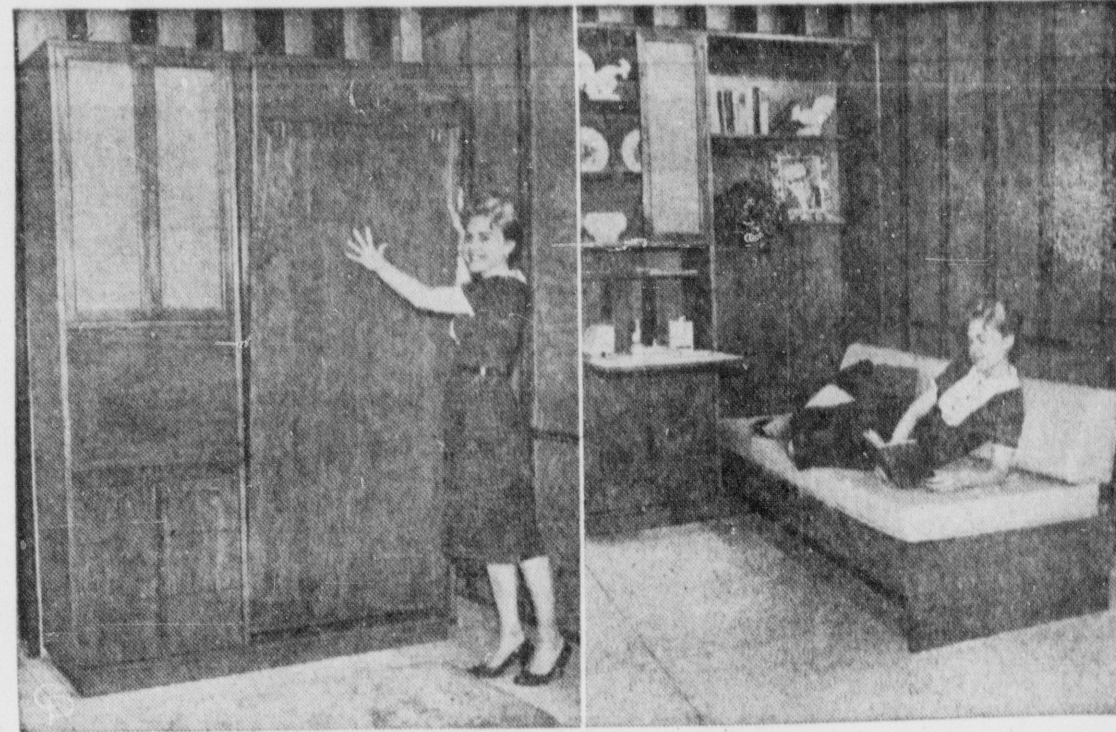

Kneel at his head, facing his feet. Grasp his wrists and cross his arms. Rock forward, pressing his wrists deep against his lower chest to squeeze air out.

Rock backward, flinging his arms out, up and back — as far as possible over his head. Now his stretched chest draws in air.

With either method, repeat 15 times a minute — 20 times for children.

Match your rhythm to your victim's first week gasps. He's too feeble to fight you. Don't give up if he's still limp and breathless after several hours. Even doctors have been fooled.

The respiration may be artificial, but your victim's life is real. And there's nothing artificial about that warm glow you'll feel when you remember how you saved someone teetering on the brink!

The Business World

By ED MORSE

AP Business News Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—The 12-year-old Bull Market balloon burst in the first half year of 1962 and Wall Street is trying to pick up the pieces.

Last week some of the wreckage was being salvaged. Stocks rallied after sinking to the lows reached twice in 1956 and once in 1957—a "triple top."

The past week's recovery, though the biggest gain in two years, was midged - sized compared with the giant fall from December's historic heights.

"Have we reached bottom?" Was still the question in Wall Street.

It recalled an answer given during the 1929-'32 stock catastrophe by Dwight Morrow of J. P. Morgan & Co.:

"You cannot predict the bottom of a stock market until it is over."

An up-to-date comment came this week from Joseph P. Granville of E. F. Hutton & Co.: "There is no green light yet, only what appears to be a shift from red to yellow."

The Bull Market, it's generally agreed, began in 1949 and ended last December. The chief argument for buying stocks was as a hedge against inflation. President Kennedy's program for "non-inflationary" growth, therefore, has been cited as a factor in the stock slide.

After 12 weeks of irregular action in early 1962, the market began its descent in April.

The "Black Monday" collapse of May 28 may have been the loud noise after the balloon had been punctured. Most of the damage had already been done. In the five trading days before "Black Monday" the market suffered its worst weekly decline in history.

After a rebound in the same week — one veteran Wall Streeter called the buying "idiotcy at its highest" — the market resumed its fall, dropping below the "panic lows."

Statisticians have estimated this spring's decline involved the loss of $150 billion in stock values equal to about half of the U.S. national debt.

On the New York Stock Exchange alone, the drop in stock values was $61 billion from the end of December to the end of May when the official total value of all stocks listed was $327 billion. The estimated June loss, based on the decline in the Associated Press average, was another $23 billion, making an approximate total loss of $84 billion for the six months on big board stocks.

This was aside from the losses taken by stocks listed only on other exchange and in the vast over-the-counter market, which includes some 50,000 issues compared with about 1,544 on the New York Stock Exchange.

President Kennedy's rollback of the steel price increases has been cited by some Wall Streeters — as the "trigger" of the 1962 stock collapse. Stock prices, however, had been weakening earlier.

Industrial stocks weakened as a slackening of steel buying was anticipated because of the prospects of an early steel pact.

Clevelanders Get 2nd Polio Vaccine

CLEVELAND (AP)—Round two in the fight of greater Clevelanders against polio is completed.

Sunday 642,858 persons took Type III Sabin oral polio vaccine, making the total for this second round 1,512,776, compared with 1,529,000 who received Type I on the first two Sundays. These totals exceed 92 per cent of the population in the area of participation.

The third and final round, when Type II will be given, is scheduled for Sundays July 22 and 29.

Nearby Geauga and Ashtabula counties also had similar Sunday. About 71,000 doses were administered in 12 Ashtabula County stations and about 20,000 doses at seven places in Geauga County.

Previously, buying was held as a hedge against a possible rise. With peace in the industry, steel output fell from a 27-month high in February to a 16-month low in June.

The market actually broke through its first 1962 "floor"—at about 690 in the Dow Jones industrial average — on news that U.S. Steel had raised prices. It was the first significant market breakdown.

Stocks firmed initially on news of Kennedy's successful rollback of steel prices. Then, as the president's policy drew more and more adverse comment, the market skidded at an increasing rate.

Meanwhile, production of steel ingots kept dwindling, week by week.

Wall Streeters agreed, however, that the market at its 1961 peak was vulnerable to bad news as prices were extremely high in relation to earnings and dividends. This was nothing new, however. It had been true for years.

HAPPY PARENTS—Mr. and Mrs. Walter M. Schirra Sr. of San Diego, Calif., tell newsmen they are "very happy" that their astronaut son, Walter Jr., has been selected to make a possible six-orbit Earth flight later this summer.

Safari Arrives At Destination

"Circleville Safari" has arrived in Alaska with all systems still "go" and with only two minor annoyances.

The safari, headed by three Central Ohio doctors, each with two sons, is being made in a converted school bus. It left Circleville June 1 and entered the State of Alaska at 7 a. m., June 28.

The vacationing physicians are Drs. Ray Carroll and Richard Samuel of Circleville and James H. Williams of Columbus.

An air mail advisory from Dr. Carroll, dated June 29, reports:

1. 3,000 miles covered by bus first five days.

2. 3-day side trip off Alcan Highway was made into mountain lake region with an Indian guide.

3. Dozens of Arctic graying spotted.

4. Several lake trout taken, some weighing 21 pounds.

5. Bus freezer compartment filled with fish fillets.

6. Plan to go to Valdez for salmon fishing, then on to Fairbanks.

7. No flat tires yet.

THE advisory listed "two minor annoyances": (a) hydraulic brake line sprung leak, (b) so did heater hose.

But, Dr. Carroll reports: "Mechanics along Alaskan Highway are very resourceful — can do anything from rejoining a hydraulic line to shoeing a horse."

The report was made on a hand letter, letterhead carrying a sketch of the "Circleville Safari" bus and these words: "Bones Tempores — Hades Aut Aqua Altes — Vinidum." These are "medical Latin" words which, roughly translated, mean: "Good times come hell or high water."

The safari is scheduled to return to home base about July 20.

How Weather Looks Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Official Weather Bureau summary of Ohio's weather outlook:

Cloudy skies and dry weather prevailed over Ohio early today. Rainfall the past 24 hours was confined to a few counties in the southernmost part of the state.

Chesapeake had a burst of rain totaling 3 7-10 inches. Cincinnati had .28 inches. No other showers were reported.

The tendency for showers to be very spotty over Ohio continued the entire month of June, resulting in little more than 50 per cent of normal rainfall for the month.

Temperatures this morning ranged from a cool 54 at Youngstown to 69 at Cincinnati. Columbus had 66, Toledo 65 and Cleveland 61.

The indications are favorable for dry weather over most of the state today, with only a few showers forecast for the southwest. Scattered showers seem possible for most of the state Tuesday.

OHIO FIVE DAY FORECASTS

NORTHERN OHIO — Temperatures will average two to four degrees above normal. Normal high 83 - 84, normal low 61-65. Gradual warming trend through Thursday, cooler end of week. Precipitation will average two-tenths to three-tenths of an inch in widely scattered showers through mid - week, becoming more frequent at end of week.

SOUTHERN CENTRAL OHIO — Temperatures will average near normal. Normal high 84-88, normal low 62-65. Warmer latter part of week. Rainfall will average one-tenth of an inch or less to about one-half inch west in scattered thundershowers mainly tonight or Tuesday and toward end of week.

Stark County School Head

G. Robert Bowers, a native of Williamsport, was recently named executive head of the Plain Local School District, Stark County.

Bowers was assistant executive head of the district during the last school year. At the age of 26, he becomes the youngest executive in the Stark County school system.

He was appointed to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Raymond G. Drage, who will become superintendent of Stark County Schools at the retirement of T. C. Knapp.

Given a two-year contract, Bowers' annual salary will be $11,500.

THE 26-year-old executive received a bachelor's degree with honors at Ohio University, Athens. He received his master's degree in educational administration from Ohio State University.

Bowers is married and the father of a daughter, Camille, 2.

Mentalist Is At Mercy Of Prestidigitator

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—For a time it appeared that the magician had the mentalist in his power at a convention of prestidigitators Thursday.

Stuart Cramer of Cleveland was showing Dr. David Faust, a mentalist, a pair of handcuffs which escape artists use. Faust had the cuffs on when Cramer discovered that because of the size of Faust's wrists he could not escape.

Cramer did not have a key. After several phone calls and a search among the 800 magicians attending the convention, Cramer came up with the correct key.

American Clergymen Vary On Court's Prayer Ruling

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The U.S. Supreme Court decision banning official prayers in public schools evoked both dissent and praise in Sabbath sermons. One minister called it "proper, ascribed to the court a philosophy that 'seeks to quarantine religion.'"

Some took the middle ground. Among them was the Rev. Dr. Charles D. eKan of the Episcopal Church of the Epiphany of Washington, D. C., who said the court's ruling was "neither a great victory for religious liberty nor an attack upon the religious traditions of our country."

The Supreme Court decision did not say religious devotions of a voluntary nature may never be served in a sermon Sunday.

Last Monday, the court ruled that a 22-word prayer drafted by the New York State Board of Regents for recitation at the start of each school day was unconstitutional.

The prayer reads: "Almighty God, we acknowledge our dependence upon Thee, and beg Thy blessing upon us, our parents, our teachers and our country."

Dr. E. S. James, editor of the Baptist Standard and a Southern Baptist leader, called the court's decision "proper, fair and correct," adding the school prayer "could not hurt anyone."

However, Dr. J. Richard Sneed of the First Methodist church in Los Angeles told his congregation that the ruling will produce a more revolutionary effect on U.S. society than Karl Marx ever could.

He said the court's philosophy "seeks to quarantine religion."

Richard Cardinal Cushing, speaking at Gloucester, Mass., in the annual blessing of the fishing fleet, said the decision "broke the hearts of millions and millions of people who live in captive nations behind the Iron and Bamboo curtains, whose only hope is in God and our own beloved country."

"The only thing communism fears is religion, and religion is the only thing that can save the world from being dominated by the butchers and tyrants of the Communist world," Cardinal Cushing said.

In sermons Saturday, a number of New York rabbis said the decision has helped the cause of religion, not hindered it. Some described the prayer involved as being so neutral that it is meaningless and cannot help religion.

The Rev. Dr. Edward E. Klein of the Stephen Wise Free Synagogue in New York City urged that citizens follow President Kennedy's counsel to support the decision and accept it as a challenge to cultivate prayer at home and intensify religious education in synagogue and church.

Some churchmen said a larger reason for alarm were predictions that the ruling may lead to elimination of all Bible reading and religious observances from the public schools.

The Rev. Dr. John M. Krumm, Columbia University chaplain, said the prediction "justifiably causes alarm to churchmen who would regard an education from which all references to the role of religion in the formation of our history and culture had been removed as a distorted and inadequate education."

The Rev. Dr. Lawrence L. Durgin, preaching at the Broadway Congregational church in New York City, told worshippers the court's ruling "deserves general applause."

"But let us be clear about the substance of the decision," he added. "The court has not decided 'against God' in the United States or in the public schools. On the contrary, it has decided that the reality of God can neither be guaranteed nor denied by action of the state."

Electric Utility, Union Sign Pact

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Columbus & Southern Ohio Electric Co. and the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, Local 1466, have a new contract—agreed upon only hours before a threatened strike was to begin.

The contract, covering 1,100 linemen, generating plant and maintenance crews, calls for a wage increase ranging from 7 to 11 cents an hour and other fringe benefits.

The agreement Saturday night came as a surprise. Late Saturday afternoon the negotiators broke off talks and the union said it could not accept the company's offer.

Patrol Liquor Fines Announced by Rhodes

The state received from courts in Picaway County $15,277.26 as its 45 per cent share of State Highway Patrol fines and $162.50 as its 50 per cent share of liquor fines, according to a report from the office of James A. Rhodes, state auditor.

Eclipses have aided in precisely computing the movements of moon and earth and in calculating the earth's exact size and shape.

President Howard Pyle said the toll would rise no higher than 110 if most motorists observe safe driving rules but could reach 150 if many drivers commit mo'oring errors.

In addition, the council said, 6,000 to 8,000 persons could suffer injuries that would disable them beyond the day of their accidents.

The holiday period will begin at 6 p.m. local time July 3, and will end at midnight July 4.

Statisticians figured most of the nation's motorists will be behind the wheel and will roll up a total of 2.7 billion miles.

If motor vehicle fatalities soar to 150, it will stand as a record for a one-day observance of Independence Day. The current high mark is 137, set in 1956.

There was only one other one-day celebration of the holiday since World War II. That was in 1951, when traffic deaths totaled 105.

The council estimated that 20 to 30 lives could be saved if every motorist wore a seat belt.

Safari Arrives At Destination

"Circleville Safari" has arrived in Alaska with all systems still "go" and with only two minor annoyances.

The safari, headed by three Central Ohio doctors, each with two sons, is being made in a converted school bus. It left Circleville June 1 and entered the State of Alaska at 7 a. m., June 28.

The vacationing physicians are Drs. Ray Carroll and Richard Samuel of Circleville and James H. Williams of Columbus.

An air mail advisory from Dr. Carroll, dated June 29, reports:

1. 3,000 miles covered by bus first five days.
2. 3-day side trip off Alcan Highway was made into mountain lake region with an Indian guide.

3. Dozens of Arctic graying spotted.

4. Several lake trout taken, some weighing 21 pounds.

5. Bus freezer compartment filled with fish fillets.

6. Plan to go to Valdez for salmon fishing, then on to Fairbanks.

7. No flat tires yet.

THE advisory listed "two minor annoyances": (a) hydraulic brake line sprung leak, (b) so did heater hose.

But, Dr. Carroll reports: "Mechanics along Alaskan Highway are very resourceful — can do anything from rejoining a hydraulic line to shoeing a horse."

The report was made on a hand letter, letterhead carrying a sketch of the "Circleville Safari" bus and these words: "Bones Tempores — Hades Aut Aqua Altes — Vineldum." These are "medical Latin" words which, roughly translated, mean: "Good times come hell or high water."

The safari is scheduled to return to home base about July 20.

How Weather Looks Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Official Weather Bureau summary of Ohio's weather outlook:

Cloudy skies and dry weather prevailed over Ohio early today. Rainfall the past 24 hours was confined to a few counties in the southernmost part of the state.

Chesapeake had a burst of rain totaling 3.7-10 inches. Cincinnati had .28 inches. No other showers were reported.

The tendency for showers to be very spotty over Ohio continued the entire month of June, resulting in little more than 50 per cent of normal rainfall for the month.

Temperatures this morning ranged from a cool 54 at Youngstown to 69 at Cincinnati. Columbus had 66, Toledo 65 and Cleveland 61.

The indications are favorable for dry weather over most of the state today, with only a few showers forecast for the southwest. Scattered showers seem possible for most of the state Tuesday.

OHIO FIVE DAY FORECASTS

NORTHERN OHIO — Temperatures will average two to four degrees above normal. Normal high 83 - 84, normal low 61-65. Gradual warming trend through Thursday, cooler end of week. Precipitation will average two-tenths to three-tenths of an inch in widely scattered showers through mid-week, becoming more frequent at end of week.

SOUTHERN CENTRAL OHIO — Temperatures will average near normal. Normal high 84-88, normal low 62-65. Warmer latter part of week. Rainfall will average one-tenth of an inch or less to about one-half inch west in scattered thundershowers mainly tonight or Tuesday and toward end of week.

Stark County School Head

G. Robert Bowers, a native of Williamsport, was recently named executive head of the Plain Local School District, Stark County.

Bowers was assistant executive head of the district during the last school year. At the age of 26, he becomes the youngest executive in the Stark County school system.

He was appointed to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Raymond G. Drape, who will become superintendent of Stark County Schools at the retirement of T. C. Knapp.

Given a two-year contract, Bowers' annual salary will be $11,500. THE 26-year-old executive received a bachelor's degree with honors at Ohio University, Athens. He received his master's degree in educational administration from Ohio State University.

Bowers is married and the father of a daughter, Camille, 2.

Mentalist Is At Mercy Of Prestidigitator

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—For a time it appeared that the magician had the mentalist in his power at a convention of prestidigitators Thursday.

Stuart Cramer of Cleveland was showing Dr. David Faust, a mentalist, a pair of handcuffs which escape artists use. Faust had the cuffs on when Cramer discovered that because of the size of Faust's wrists he could not escape.

Cramer did not have a key. After several phone calls and a search among the 800 magicians attending the convention, Cramer came up with the correct key.

MAYOR ACCEPTS FLAGS — Circleville Mayor Richard Penn accepts eight American flags presented the city by the local Jaycee unit. Jack Alkire, Jaycee President, (center) made the presentation. Looking on from the right is Don Crist, Jaycee Flag Committee chairman. Flags will be mounted on utility poles at the corner of Court and Main Sts. on appropriate days. Circleville Police will be in charge of displaying the flags after Wednesday, July 4th. Jaycees are offering flags for sale to local merchants and individuals. Flags may be purchased through any Jaycee member. (Photo by Ron Warren)

American Clergymen Vary On Court's Prayer Ruling

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The U.S. Supreme Court decision banning official prayers in public schools evoked both dissent and praise in Sabbath sermons. One minister called it "proper, ascribed to the court a philosophy that 'seeks to quarantine religion.'"

Some took the middle ground. Among them was the Rev. Dr. Charles D. eKan of the Episcopal Church of the Epiphany of Washington, D. C., who said the court's ruling was "neither a great victory for religious liberty nor an attack upon the religious traditions of our country."

The Supreme Court decision did not say religious devotions of a voluntary nature may never be served in a sermon Sunday.

Last Monday, the court ruled that a 22-word prayer drafted by the New York State Board of Regents for recitation at the start of each school day was unconstitutional.

The prayer reads: "Almighty God, we acknowledge our dependence upon Thee, and beg Thy blessing upon us, our parents, our teachers and our country."

Dr. E. S. James, editor of the Baptist Standard and a Southern Baptist leader, called the court's decision "proper, fair and correct," adding the school prayer "could not hurt anyone."

However, Dr. J. Richard Sneed of the First Methodist church in Los Angeles told his congregation that the ruling will produce a more revolutionary effect on U.S. society than Karl Marx ever could.

He said the court's philosophy "seeks to quarantine religion."

Richard Cardinal Cushing, speaking at Gloucester, Mass., in the annual blessing of the fishing fleet, said the decision "broke the hearts of millions and millions of people who live in captive nations behind the Iron and Bamboo curtains, whose only hope is in God and our own beloved country."

"The only thing communism fears is religion, and religion is the only thing that can save the world from being dominated by the butchers and tyrants of the Communist world," Cardinal Cushing said.

In sermons Saturday, a number of New York rabbis said the decision has helped the cause of religion, not hindered it. Some described the prayer involved as being so neutral that it is meaningless and cannot help religion.

The Rev. Dr. Edward E. Klein of the Stephen Wise Free Synagogue in New York City urged that citizens follow President Ken-

In Boots' Graden

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP)—Poppies from Flanders Field in France still are growing in the garden of Clyde L. Boots, who lives on a farm in the Des Moines area. He says he brought the seed to his mother when he came home from France in 1919, after the close of World War I. He carried the seed in a capsule then used by the Signal Corps for sending messages by carrier pigeon. The current crop of blooms originated from that seed.

Give Wardrobe Closets Splash Of Gay Color

By ELEANOR ROSS

What a joy it is to open a closet door and see within colorful, well-arranged contents. It's really worth a bit of time and money and effort to have beautiful closets.

Only too often, even in well run, well-appointed households, the master bedroom closets are just a dumping ground for clothes and accessories. How much better to have closets that are not only efficiently arranged, but pleasing to contemplate, too.

First thing is to get every item out of each closet and give a thorough cleaning. Then, line walls, ceiling and inside of closet door with a vinyl paper in a gay, washable design. Choose a shocker of a color, such as bright blue or vermilion or sunny yellow, but with an eye to the color scheme of the room, of course.

Then work on hangers to tie in or contrast with the basic color.

Next thing is to invest in attractive storage boxes, or cover those you have with wallpaper, special shelf paper or fabric, so that accessories are housed in shelf boxes that are pretty.

For a man's closet, felt-covered boxes are smart. Ordinary shoe boxes, so covered are ever so useful for small items.

Cover the closet floor with oil cloth. You might treat the floor of a large walk-in closet to a cotton rug covering.

Arrange luggage and other items not in frequent use on shelves and hang fabric or a decorative window shade or a bamboo blind from the ceiling, again choosing a color that will go well with the basic color choice.

Make use of the inside of the closet door. If you have plenty of room and shelf space, then treat yourself to a full-length mirror. Or, if space is at a premium, line the door with narrow shelves, ladder fashion, to hold small boxes or items.

Place hanging rods as deep back in the closet as you can. This makes for easy access to the clothes hanging there.

Doing closets is a fun job that pays off handsomely.

Dear Abby:

by Abigail Van Buren

All This and Heaven, Too?

DEAR ABBY: I have one of the best husbands in the world, and I know it. He puts in a 9-hour day of hard work, and then comes home and helps me with the housework. He keeps all the floors waxed and polished. He takes care of the woodwork, keeps the windows sparkling, and he even does the washing and ironing (yes, I said ironing) when I am behind in my work. Last week he canned 100 quarts of peaches. Now, here is my problem. He isn't very loving. It would mean so much to me if he would just be a little more affectionate. I am only 33 and he is 36.

NEEDS AFFECTION
DEAR NEEDS: Maybe he is tired!

DEAR ABBY: Our daughter is having in-law trouble and she isn't even married yet. When her future in-laws saw the wedding invitations, they hit the ceiling because their names didn't appear along with ours. We checked all the etiquette books and the first-class printers and engravers in town and they agreed that in no instance should the names of the groom's parents appear on the invitations. Well, to make a long story short, we had to have ANOTHER set of invitations made up to keep peace in the family. So, Dear Abby, in your role of peacemaker, please suggest that everyone have TWO SETS of wedding invitations made. One to be socially correct, and the other to keep the peace.

FATHER OF THE BRIDE
DEAR FATHER: You are to be admired for your generosity, but I doubt if your suggestion will be taken by many. In putting on weddings, most people would rather be socially correct than friendly.

DEAR ABBY: The person who wrote in to say it was "unhealthy" for a husband and wife to sleep in the same bed reminds me of the mother who wouldn't kiss her baby because it might spread "germs." Personally, I couldn't es. Remove pit and peel. Cut into 1/2-in. cubes.

Dice pineapple.
Peel mango or peaches; slice.
Combine fruit.
Blend oil with lime juice, salt and sugar. Pour over fruit. Toss lightly.
Serve on a bed of lettuce or salad greens.

What a joy it is to open a closet door and see within colorful, well-arranged contents. It's really worth a bit of time and money and effort to have beautiful closets.

Only too often, even in well run, well-appointed households, the master bedroom closets are just a dumping ground for clothes and accessories. How much better to have closets that are not only efficiently arranged, but pleasing to contemplate, too.

First thing is to get every item out of each closet and give a thorough cleaning. Then, line walls, ceiling and inside of closet door with a vinyl paper in a gay, washable design. Choose a shocker of a color, such as bright blue or vermilion or sunny yellow — but with an eye to the color scheme of the room, of course.

Then work on hangers to tie in or contrast with the basic color.

Next thing is to invest in attractive storage boxes, or cover those you have with wallpaper, special shelf paper or fabric, so that accessories are housed in shelf boxes that are pretty.

For a man's closet, felt-covered boxes are smart. Ordinary shoe boxes, so covered are ever so useful for small items.

Cover the closet floor with oil cloth. You might treat the floor of a large walk-in closet to a cotton rug covering.

Arrange luggage and other items not in frequent use on shelves and hang fabric or a decorative window shade or a bamboo blind from the ceiling, again choosing a color that will go well with the basic color choice.

Make use of the inside of the closet door. If you have plenty of room and shelf space, then treat yourself to a full-length mirror. Or, if space is at a premium, line the door with narrow shelves, ladder fashion, to hold small boxes or items.

Place hanging rods as deep back in the closet as you can. This makes for easy access to the clothes hanging there.

Doing closets is a fun job that pays off handsomely.

Dear Abby: All This and Heaven, Too?

by Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I have one of the best husbands in the world, and I know it. He puts in a 9-hour day of hard work, and then comes home and helps me with the housework. He keeps all the floors waxed and polished. He takes care of the woodwork, keeps the windows sparkling, and he even does the washing and ironing (yes, I said ironing) when I am behind in my work. Last week he canned 100 quarts of peaches. Now, here is my problem. He isn't very loving. It would mean so much to me if he would just be a little more affectionate. I am only 33 and he is 36.

NEEDS AFFECTION
DEAR NEEDS: Maybe he is tired!

DEAR ABBY: Our daughter is having in-law trouble and she isn't even married yet. When her future in-laws saw the wedding invitations, they hit the ceiling because their names didn't appear along with ours. We checked all the etiquette books and the first-class printers and engravers in town and they agreed that in no instance should the names of the groom's parents appear on the invitations. Well, to make a long story short, we had to have ANOTHER set of invitations made up to keep peace in the family. So, Dear Abby, in your role of peacemaker, please suggest that everyone have TWO SETS of wedding invitations made. One to be socially correct, and the other to keep the peace.

FATHER OF THE BRIDE
DEAR FATHER: You are to be admired for your generosity, but I doubt if your suggestion will be taken by many. In putting on weddings, most people would rather be socially correct than friendly.

DEAR ABBY: The person who wrote in to say it was "unhealthy" for a husband and wife to sleep in the same bed reminds me of the mother who wouldn't kiss her baby because it might spread "germs." Personally, I couldn't

In Boots' Graden

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP)—Pop- pies from Flanders Field in France still are growing in the garden of Clyde L. Boots, who lives on a farm in the Des Moines area.

He says he brought the seed to his mother when he came home from France in 1919, after the close of World War I. He carried the seed in a capsule then used by the Signal Corps for sending mes- sages by carrier pigeon. The current crop of blooms originated from that seed.

DONNA MOWERY

GALE LARUE

Mowery, LaRue Are Winners In Safety Speaking Contest

Donna Mowery and Gale LaRue were selected division winners in the annual Pickaway County 4-H Safety Speaking contest conducted last week as part of the Star Grange program.

Miss Mowery, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Mowery, Route 3, is a member of the Jackson Jolly Tasters and Basters 4-H club. Her advisers are Mrs. Loyd Minor, Mrs. Charles Huston and Mrs. George Mowery.

The title of Miss Mowery's winning speech was "Headless Horsepower." Donna stated that headless horsepower is a chronic disease of the age of the automobile. Its symptoms are many and various — the heavy foot, the eye fixed on the climbing accelerator, the hand on the horn, and the mind idling while the car is in high.

"The fact that 40,000 Americans will die on the highway this year seems of little concern to the average driver. He's confident he won't be one of them and he cares little if other people are going to die."

LaRue, son of Mr. and Mrs. Luther LaRue, of Route 2, Ashville, is a member of the Pickaway Soil Savers 4-H club. His advisers are Casey Neal and Don Archer.

Gale's winning speech was "Beware of Bees." He stated that "a bee sting can be as deadly as a rattlesnake bite. In fact, a recent government report shows that more people die from bee stings than from all kinds of snake bites."

"Immunity today to bee sting is a simple matter. Your doctor can give you a serum shot, followed by booster shots to insure your safety against bee stings."

Other contestants were Sally Hines, Cathy Courtwright, Larry Vance, Linda Trimmer, Kathy Gray, Kay Fortney, Sharon Graves, Sharon McPherson, Barbara Vance, Patty Bailey, Becky Alkire and Mary Claire Short.

Cash awards were presented the winners by Carroll Reid, chairman of the Pickaway County Traffic Safety Committee.

The judges were Mrs. D. Tiffin Tootle and Darrell Hatfield.

The World Today

By RAYMOND J. CROWLEY (For James Marlow)

WASHINGTON (AP)—Now that the dust has settled a bit after the explosive argument over the Supreme Court's prayer decision, it may be in order to examine the decision's effects:

Just what does it do and what doesn't it do?

It does not mean: That "In God We Trust" will disappear from the coins in your pocket;

That "in God is our trust" will vanish from the nation's official anthem, "The Star-Spangled Banner."

The Supreme Court crier will have to stop crying: "God save the United States and this honorable court."

The decision does mean: That no government official or group of officials anywhere in the United States has the legal right to make up an official prayer and sanction its use in schoolrooms.

The decision is at once narrow in scope and broad in possible implications. It was based on the constitutional prohibition against laws "respecting an establishment of religion."

The court majority said this prohibition "must at least mean that in this country it is no part of the business of government to compose official prayers for any group of the American people to recite as part of a religious program carried on by government."

This sentence, as it goes along, seems to limit more and more the scope of the decision. And it does. But note the two words "at least."

They imply that the establishment clause, in the opinion of the court majority, may forbid a lot of other things the justices do not mention because they were not up for a decision.

What about the reading of the Bible in public schools, for example? The decision does not mention this. But since there are many different versions of the Bible, not to speak of the Koran and other religious books, who is to select the one to be read? Some public officials, such as school board members, or persons designated by them?

Would Bible reading in public schools get by the Supreme Court as presently constituted? It would seem not, unless the Bible were read as part of a course in literature or history. (The court decision noted that "the history of man is inseparable from the history of religion.")

Studying the attitude of the present court there seems little chance that any broad program of federal aid to education in parochial or other church-connected schools would get by, if enacted.

But the majority opinion did say it was not knocking religious language out of "The Star-Spangled Banner," or interfering with many other "manifestations in our public life of belief in God."

"Such patriotic or ceremonial occasions," the majority said, "bear no true resemblance to the unquestioned religious exercise" which New York school authorities inaugurated in the schools and which was struck down by the tribunal.

Many religious people are trying to find ways to preserve prayer in public schools. Some, like Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., have suggested that each school day begin "with a noncompulsory opportunity for a period of silent prayer and meditation."

In other words, the teacher might say: "Now boys and girls, there will be a moment of quiet, during which you may pray if you want to."

Radar Speed Warning Signs Given Legal Nod

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Speeding motorists may find the going a little tougher because of a ruling by Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy. He ruled Friday that radar warning signs and other speed timing devices may be placed temporarily by law enforcement officers at any place on state highways they may choose.

The ruling followed a request as to whether signs must be permanently placed, and whether police needed the approval of the director of highways to place the signs.

Choosing a Date

VARINA, Va. (AP)—The high school graduates here got their diplomas two days early. Commencement was supposed to be June 12, but the printer made an error in the program and listed it as June 10. When they reached the school it was too late to have them reprinted.

The graduation was Sunday night, June 10.

JOB OPEN—Who's to head 20th Century-Fox Films is the question on resignation of Spyros Skouras as president for "reasons of health." Prominently considered to succeed him are James T. Aubrey, CBS president, and Darryl Zanuck, producer and 20th Century-Fox's largest stockholder.

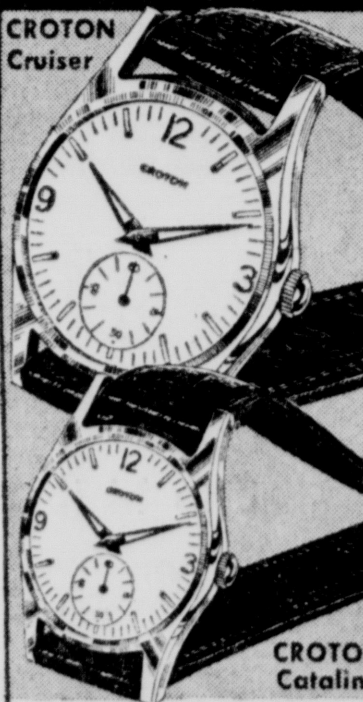

Fire Levels Mill, Damages Church

ST. CLAIRSVILLE, Ohio (AP)—A $100,000 fire destroyed a feed mill in nearby Barnesville Sunday night and also caused heavy damage to a Roman Catholic church.

The blaze started in the Gibson Feed and Supply Co. building, a three-story brick and frame structure. The intense heat and flying sparks soon had the roof of the Church of the Assumption, about 50 feet away, burning. Several homes in the area were threatened.

The fire knocked out electric power in most of the business district and disrupted telephone service. The cause had not been determined.

CINCINNATI (AP)—Funeral services are planned Tuesday morning at the chapel of Spring Grove Cemetery for attorney Robert N. Gorman, onetime Ohio Supreme Court judge and Democratic gubernatorial candidate. Gorman, 65, died of cancer at his home Sunday in nearby Wyoming. He had been serving on the Hamilton County Common Pleas bench when Gov. Martin Davey named him in 1937 to the Ohio Supreme Court. A try for reelection to the high court in 1938 failed.

Gorman had planned to run for governor in 1948 but pulled out when Frank Lausche announced for the post. Ten years later he tried again but was defeated by Gov. Michael V. DiSalle for the Democratic nomination.

Gorman's wife, Mary, has been Ohio's welfare director since 1959. He is also survived by two sons.

Sturdy Greek of 'Route 66' Back on Job after Illness

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—George Maharis is back on "Route 66" after an eight-week detour due to hepatitis.

This news should cheer his many teen-age fans who missed him on four of the CBS series outings this season. The company had to shoot around him while he was battling the bug.

Maharis was again on the road with buddy Martin Milner, though they got no farther than Calabasas, a dusty crossroads in the San Fernando Valley. The youngsters were doing a sequence with a trio of ace scene-stealers, Joe E. Brown, Buster Keaton and Edgar Buchanan.

Maharis managed to find an air-conditioned real estate office to cool off after a fight sequence in the 90-plus heat.

"Just what the doctor ordered," he said wryly. "When I asked him if I could come back to work, he says okay, if I took it easy—four or five hours a day."

"The first day I worked 12 hours, the second 15, the third 18. This is known as a recuperation." Luckily George is a sturdy Greek and has bounced back from the hepatitis attack with no complications. With his schedule, he's got to have a sturdy constitution.

George has hit it big with the younger set, as evidenced by the sale of his record singles and albums. This has put him in demand for features, but so far he hasn't been able to accept.

How long does he expect to keep traveling the same route?

"I think next season (the third) will be crucial. We're up against Mitch Miller on NBC and a couple of comedy shows on ABC Thursday night. If Miller continues to hold on or if the comedy shows catch on, we're finished. Otherwise we might be able to last another year or two."

They Admit Problem

TORONTO (AP)—Canadian women are more courageous about the overweight problem than men, according to a recent survey.

Twenty-eight per cent of French-speaking males and 17 per cent of English-speaking males felt they were overweight.

On the other hand, 40 per cent of the French-speaking women and 44 per cent of English-speaking women felt their figures were too ample.

Half the women claimed they had tried to reduce while only one-third of the men said they had tried to lose weight.

7,500 GIs To Leave Europe This Summer

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States probably will withdraw about 7,500 Army troops from Europe this summer, informed sources said Saturday.

This would be the first reduction of U.S. strength there since the Berlin crisis military buildup last fall.

The men to be pulled back would be support troops—quartermaster, signal, ordnance and the like.

Thus, there would be no weakening of U.S. combat-type forces, arrayed mostly in Germany.

The title of Miss Mowery's winning speech was "Heedless Horsepower". Donna stated "that heedless horsepower is a chronic disease of the age of the automobile. Its symptoms are many and various — the heavy foot, the eye fixed on the climbing accelerator, the hand on the horn, and the mind idling while the car is in high."

"The fact that 40,000 Americans will die on the highway this year seems of little concern to the average driver. He's confident he won't be one of them and he cares little if other people are going to die."

LaRue, son of Mr. and Mrs. Luther LaRue, of Route 2, Ashville, is a member of the Pickaway Soil Savers 4-H club. His advisers are Casey Neal and Don Archer.

Gale's winning speech was "Beware of Bees". He stated that "a bee sting can be as deadly as a rattlesnake bite. In fact, a recent government report shows that more people die from bee stings than from all kinds of snake bites."

"Immunity today to bee sting is a simple matter. Your doctor can give you a serum shot, followed by booster shots to insure your safety against bee stings."

Other contestants were Sally Hines, Cathy Courtright, Larry Vance, Linda Trimmer, Kathy Gray, Kay Fortney, Sharon Graves, Sharon McPherson, Barbara Vance, Patty Bailey, Becky Alkire and Mary Claire Short.

Cash awards were presented to the winners by Carroll Reid, chairman of the Pickaway County Traffic Safety Committee.

The judges were Mrs. D. Tiffin Tootle and Darrell Hatfield.

The World Today

By RAYMOND J. CROWLEY
(For James Marlow)

WASHINGTON (AP)—Now that the dust has settled a bit after the explosive argument over the Supreme Court's prayer decision, it may be in order to examine the decision's effects:

Just what does it do and what doesn't it do?

It does not mean: That "In God We Trust" will disappear from the coins in your pocket;

That "in God is our trust" will vanish from the nation's official anthem, "The Star-Spangled Banner."

The Supreme Court crier will have to stop crying: "God save the United States and this honorable court."

The decision does mean: That no government official or group of officials anywhere in the United States has the legal right to make up an official prayer and sanction its use in schoolrooms.

The decision is at once narrow in scope and broad in possible implications. It was based on the constitutional prohibition against laws "respecting an establishment of religion."

The court majority said this prohibition "must at least mean that in this country it is no part of the business of government to compose official prayers for any group of the American people to recite as part of a religious program carried on by government."

This sentence, as it goes along, seems to limit more and more the scope of the decision. And it does. But note the two words "at least."

They imply that the establishment clause, in the opinion of the court majority, may forbid a lot of other things the justices do not mention because they were not up for a decision.

What about the reading of the Bible in public schools, for example? The decision does not mention this. But since there are many different versions of the Bible, not to speak of the Koran and other religious books, who is to select the one to be read? Some public officials, such as school board members, or persons designated by them?

Would Bible reading in public schools get by the Supreme Court as presently constituted? It would seem not, unless the Bible were read as part of a course in literature or history. (The court decision noted that "the history of man is inseparable from the history of religion.")

Studying the attitude of the present court there seems little chance that any broad program of federal aid to education in parochial or other church-connected schools would get by, if enacted.

But the majority opinion did say it was not knocking religious language out of "The Star-Spangled Banner," or interfering with many other "manifestations in our public life of belief in God."

"Such patriotic or ceremonial occasions," the majority said, "bear no true resemblance to the unquestioned religious exercise" which New York school authorities inaugurated in the schools and which was struck down by the tribunal.

Many religious people are trying to find ways to preserve prayer in public schools. Some, like Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., have suggested that each school day begin "with a noncompulsory opportunity for a period of silent prayer and meditation."

In other words, the teacher might say: "Now boys and girls, there will be a moment of quiet, during which you may pray if you want to."

Radar Speed Warning Signs Given Legal Nod

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Speeding motorists may find the going a little tougher because of a ruling by Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy. He ruled Friday that radar warning signs and other speed timing devices may be placed temporarily by law enforcement officers at any place on state highways they may choose.

The ruling followed a request as to whether signs must be permanently placed, and whether police needed the approval of the director of highways to place the signs.

Choosing a Date

VARINA, Va. (AP)—The high school graduates here got their diplomas two days early. Commencement was supposed to be June 12, but the printer made an error in the program and listed it as June 10. When they reached the school it was too late to have them reprinted.

The graduation was Sunday night, June 10.

Spyros Skouras

James T. Aubrey

Darryl Zanuck

JOB OPEN—Who's to head 20th Century-Fox Films is the question on resignation of Spyros Skouras as president for "reasons of health." Prominently considered to succeed him are James T. Aubrey, CBS president, and Darryl Zanuck, producer and 20th Century-Fox's largest stockholder.

Sturdy Greek of 'Route 66' Back on Job after Illness

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—George Maharis is back on "Route 66" after an eight-week detour due to hepatitis.

This news should cheer his many teen-age fans who missed him on four of the CBS series outings this season. The company had to shoot around him while he was battling the bug.

Maharis was again on the road with buddy Martin Milner, though they got no farther than Calabasas, a dusty crossroads in the San Fernando Valley. The youngsters were doing a sequence with a trio of ace scene-stealers, Joe E. Brown, Buster Keaton and Edgar Buchanan.

Maharis managed to find an air-conditioned real estate office to cool off after a fight sequence in the 90-plus heat.

"Just what the doctor ordered," he said wryly. "When I asked him if I could come back to work, he says okay, if I took it easy—four or five hours a day."

"The first day I worked 12 hours, the second 15, the third 18. This is known as a recuperation."

Luckily George is a sturdy Greek and has bounced back from the hepatitis attack with no complications. With his schedule, he's got to have a sturdy constitution.

George has hit it big with the younger set, as evidenced by the sale of his record singles and albums. This has put him in demand for features, but so far he hasn't been able to accept.

How long does he expect to keep traveling the same route? "I think next season (the third) will be crucial. We're up against Mitch Miller on NBC and a couple of comedy shows on ABC Thursday night. If Miller continues to hold on or if the comedy shows catch on, we're finished. Otherwise we might be able to last another year or two."

They Admit Problem

TORONTO (AP)—Canadian women are more courageous about the overweight problem than men, according to a recent survey.

Twenty-eight per cent of French-speaking males and 17 per cent of English-speaking males felt they were overweight.

On the other hand, 40 per cent of the French-speaking women and 44 per cent of English-speaking women felt their figures were too ample.

Half the women claimed they had tried to reduce while only one-third of the men said they had tried to lose weight.

Judge Gorman, 65, Killed by Cancer

CINCINNATI (AP)—Funeral services are planned Tuesday morning at the chapel of Spring Grove Cemetery for attorney Robert N. Gorman, onetime Ohio Supreme Court judge and Democratic gubernatorial candidate. Gorman, 65, died of cancer at his home Sunday in nearby Wyoming. He had been serving on the Hamilton County Common Pleas bench when Gov. Martin Davey named him in 1937 to the Ohio Supreme Court. A try for reelection to the high court in 1938 failed.

Gorman had planned to run for governor in 1948 but pulled out when Frank Lausche announced for the post. Ten years later he tried again but was defeated by Gov. Michael V. DiSalle for the Democratic nomination.

Gorman's wife, Mary, has been Ohio's welfare director since 1959. He is also survived by two sons.

Triple Fails To Score Man From Second

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Baseball Question: How can a player fail to score from second base on a triple? The Houston Colts furnished the answer Sunday.

The incident occurred in the seventh inning in what turned out to be the Houston's only strong inning against the Cincinnati Reds, who coasted to a 6-1 victory.

Houston trailed by five runs as Bob Aspromonte opened the inning with an infield hit. After Don Buddin struck out, Bob Cerv came through with a pinch single. Aspromonte moved to third and Cerv to second as Frank Robinson bobbled the ball in right field.

That brought up Al Spangler, and he sent a line drive screaming into the right field corner for a certain three - bagger, which is what the official scorer called it.

Aspromonte scored Houston's first run easily, but Cerv, hesitating as he rounded third base, was thrown out at home as he lunged for the plate.

"There was a mix-up in signs," explained Manager Harry Craft. "Billy Goodman (the next batter) thought the umpire called a foul ball, and he flashed the sign for Cerv to hold up. Anyway, it was something like that."

Cerv had little to say. "I'd rather not say anything," he said. "It was just one of those things. I should've slid."

The second game was called after 1 1/2 innings because of darkness with the score tied at 10-10. Stolen bases accounted for all of Cincinnati's runs in the first game. Jimmie Wellington started the scoring in the first inning by stealing home. Dick Kline tied the score by stealing home in the sixth and Dade pilfered the game winning run in the eighth.

Gary Ferguson and Freddie Moore collected the local legion's two hits. Ferguson tagged a double and Moore was credited with a single.

In the second game Circleville saw Chillicothe overcome a 5-0 deficit. Moore, Don Phifer and Mickey Hunt stroked triples for Circleville.

The following roster has been announced by Chet Iery, manager of the local American Legion baseball team.

George Reeser, Jack Cook, Freddy Moore, Dick Kline, Jimmie Wellington, Rex Ingman, Mickey Hunt, Bob Parker.

Randy Richardson, Gerald Dade, Pat Rooney, Don Phifer, Gary Ferguson, Weston Flierl, Tom Rathburn, and Gary Maynard.

Iery announced that the Legion nine will have a single contest July 4 at 1:00 p. m. with the local Babe Ruth Majors all-stars.

Purkey Reports
His Back OK Now

CINCINNATI (AP) — "As good as the first day of spring training," says Bob Purkey of his caused stabbing pain.

"My back is giving me no trouble," the Cincinnati Reds pitcher said Sunday. "If everything goes right, I'll be ready to go Monday."

That would suit the Reds and manager Fred Hutchinson just fine, since the team's No. 1 pitcher has been out of action a week.

Purkey (13-1) is scheduled to start the first game of tonight's two-night doubleheader against the Chicago Cubs.

The Reds wound up their western tour Sunday by pounding out a 14-hit, 6-1 victory over the Houston Colt 45s. Joey Jay scattered nine Houston hits.

Amateur teams from Pickaway, Ross, Highland, Pike, Scioto, Lawrence, Jackson, Adams, Brown and Clermont counties are eligible to compete in the tourney. The tournament is being sponsored by the Chillicothe Lions Club.

Yankee Discus Ace Itching For Russians

CHICAGO (AP)—"I can't wait to meet that Russian."

That was the succinct challenge hurled today by two-time Olympic champion Al Oerter as America's track forces, flushed by an overwhelming weekend triumph over Poland, looked ahead to the important July 21-22 dual with Russia at Palo Alto, Calif.

Oerter, who wasn't even supposed to be in the Polish-USA dual—which resulted in a 131-81 conquest of the outclassed Poles—hurled the discus a world-record smashing 204 feet, 10 1/2 inches at ancient Stagg Field Sunday.

In the Russian dual, the 6-foot-4, 255-pound Oerter, former U. of Kansas star, collides with touted Vladimir Truseyov, who on June 4 whirled the discus 202-2 1/2. That even shaded Oerter's great 202-2 throw in the National AAU meet at Walnut, Calif., June 23.

Oerter, who arrived in Chicago Saturday night—after earlier in the week reporting he would be unable to compete against the Poles because of a training injury—got off his great toss on his second of his six tries. The doomed listed world mark is 199-2 1/2, set by the USA's Jay Silverster last year in Belgium.

Oerter's spotlight-stealing performance dominated the USA's crushing of the Poles by a margin of 15 firsts in the 20 events contested.

Angels Wear Their Halos Jauntily Now

Los Angeles Only Few Points Out of First In AL Pennant Chase

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

If the Angels are wearing their halos at a slightly jaunty, rakish angle, and if their smiles are more devil-may-car than angelic these days—well, there's pretty good reason for it.

Of course, it may be a rather un-angelic attitude that's struck by these Los Angeles Angels, but then, they don't often look much like angels in any event.

There's bulky Steve Bilko, who could more easily pass for a retired wrestler. Or 5-foot-5 Albie Pearson, who looks like a jockey. Or free-wheeling Bo Belinsky, more the pool hustler type than an angel.

No, they don't look like angels at all. And, at least on paper, they certainly don't look like contenders for the American League title.

But the name on the uniform confirms the first point and the American League standings verify the second. They're only three percentage points out of first place and here it is almost time for the All-Star break.

The Angels, generally picked to finish deep in the second division in the pre-season selections, give no indication of forsaking the ride on Cloud Nine.

They gave a good indication of that Sunday when they split a doubleheader with New York at Yankee Stadium, losing the first 6-3 but rallying for the second 12-5. It gave the Angels a 2-2 split in their four-game series in New York, and marked the first time in their two-year history they had won at the Stadium.

The split, along with Chicago's sweep over Cleveland, 5-4 and 7-6, dropped the Indians from first to third, in a virtual tie with Minnesota, which blanked Washington 9-0. That puts New York in first, three points up on Los Angeles, Cleveland in third only a half game behind the Minnesota in fourth, only three points back of the Indians.

Detroit edged Baltimore 3-2 and Kansas City beat Boston 9-5 in the others.

In the National League, San Francisco retained a half-game lead with a 5-4 rally against Philadelphia while second-place Los Angeles dropped New York 3-1. Pittsburgh beat St. Louis 7-2, Cincinnati topped Houston 6-1 and Milwaukee edged Chicago 1-0.

Indians Drop To Third as Sox Win Pair

CLEVELAND (AP) — A 15-day hold on first-place has ended for the Cleveland Indians. The surprising thing about it is that it didn't happen sooner, what with the Tribe losing 8 out of its last 10 games.

Two one-run losses to the Chicago White Sox in Chicago Sunday, 5-4 and 7-6, left the Indians a few percentage points ahead of the fourth-place Minnesota Twins and a half-game behind New York and Los Angeles.

There's a single game with the Baltimore Orioles at the stadium here tonight, with Dick Donovan seeking to improve his 11-3 record against the Orioles' Steve Barber (6-5). The other American League clubs see action tonight, too, as the five first-division clubs take on the five second-division teams.

Cleveland had a 3-0 lead going into the fifth inning of the first game and a 2-1 edge going into the fifth frame of the nightcap, which made Sunday's losses hard to take. Chicago's four - game sweep extended the Indians' losses to five, longest of the season.

A pinch triple by Camilo Carreon with two out in the ninth won the opener for the Sox against reliever Gary Bell.

Juan Pizarro (5-7) struck out nine Indians in the six innings he worked to win the nightcap. Three White Sox errors put him behind 2-0 in the first inning, but Chicago came through with a six-run fifth inning that sent lefty Bob Hartman to defeat.

Bucky Bass, the winning hurler, gave up six scattered hits.

The next scheduled game for the TV nine is a double header on July 4 with the River Oil nine at Chillicothe. The opening game is slated to start at 7 p. m.

Golfing

With ALEX MORRISON

Gene Littler, 1961 U. S. Open champion, simply whips the club downward through the ball with a steady head position.

"SEE YOUR clubhead strike the ball," many instructors advise.

This is supposed to give better control over the club at impact. The speed at which clubhead and ball travel makes it impossible for the human eye to catch their movements. Also, the effort to do so brings harmful manipulations of the club. These are parts of steering or jabbing techniques.

In the Correct Swing the club starts in the proper position and remains so throughout the windup and whipping downward through the ball.

In a sense the clubface position at impact is entrusted to this downward whipping with the player being conscious of what he is doing with the club as a whole, not the clubface alone.

Also, the impact position of the club is influenced by the position of the player's head more than by anything he might do with his hands.

So the proper chin pointing is most important.

Cupit Pockets Western Cash

Champion Promises Never Be Lazy Again

CHICAGO (AP)—Jacky Cupit, the new Western Open golf champion, says he never again will get lazy.

"It happened to me last fall when I had reached the first 20 money winners on the PGA circuit," said the 24-year Texan from Longview. "I went home for two months, quitting the tour because I just got lazy."

"The payoff just about wrecked my swing. When I got back on the tour I was hooking everything. My brother, Buster (one of five brothers who are professionals) finally discovered that I had unknowingly developed a strong right hand."

"I corrected it and gradually got back into the groove. I had my swing just right for this tournament. It had to be on such a demanding course as Medinah No. 2. But I'll never get lazy again, you can bet on that."

The 5-9, 190-pound Cupit won the Canadian Open in 1961 and was voted Rookie of the Year after finishing 18th on the money list with $22,813. This year his best finish was a tie for 10th in the Houston Classic before mastering Medinah's tree-hemmed, par 36-35 -71 with rounds of 69-70-71-71-281.

It earned him first money of $11,000, boosting him from 48th on the winning list to 14th with a total of $18,507.

Billy Casper made a great closing stab for the title with a closing 67 that included nine one-putts. He finished at 283 for second place and $5,500.

Gary Player, who shared the 54-hole lead with Cupit with 3-under-par 210, rocketed to a closing 76 with him at 286 was Fred Hawkins with a final 70.

Al Geiberger and Julius Boros had 287. Arnold Palmer, breaking par for the first time with a 69, posted 288. Next at 291 was National Open champion Jack Nicklaus and four others. Nicklaus wound up with a 75, his poorest round of the meet.

WHITE BASS.

ONE OF THE LARGEST OF THE FISHES, WHITE BASS ARE HITTING WELL IN THE LAKE AREA, DURING APRIL OF THIS YEAR 500,000 LBS. WERE CAUGHT COMMERCIAL IN LAKE ERIE. SCHOOL FISH, THEY LIKE CLEAN WATER, DEEP HOLES BUT USUALLY ARE TAKEN NEAR THE SURFACE. AVERAGE IS 15 TO 20 INCHES, FROM 1 TO 2 LBS.

THEY WILL HIT ANYTHING THAT MOVES BUT PREFER SMALL LURES SUCH AS A HALF-OUNCE SURF TYPE.

WHEN THEY'RE HITTING THEY'LL KEEP YOU BUSY. SOME ANGLERS REMOVE BASS FROM THE HOOKS TO ALLOW SPEEDIER TRANSFER OF A CATCH.

Bailey Bats Jets into 5th Place Tie

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Less than 13 months after they signed him to a fat, $200,000 bonus contract, the Pittsburgh Pirates are beginning to rub their hands in glee over the performance of Bob Bailey.

The Bucs signed the 19-year-old Long Beach, Calif., infielder June 7, 1961, and sent him to Asheville where he finished with a .220 batting average, 9 homers and 31 runs batted in.

This year, he was promoted to Columbus of the International League and for the first six weeks hovered around the .200 mark. But he has picked up and today was batting .274 with 12 homers (tied for third in the league), and 44 runs batted in (tops on the club).

The 6-foot-1, 180-pound Bailey hit three homers and batted in seven runs Sunday in the Jets' double triumph over the Syracuse Chiefs, 9-4 and 5-3. In the opener he slugged a three-run job to put the game out of sight. In the nightcap, he tied it in the third and won the game when he connected with one on in the eighth.

In other action Sunday, Jacksonville and Toronto and Buffalo and Atlanta split double-headers, Rochester won two from Richmond 9-4 and 4-2. The Leafs won the opener 9-3 and the Suns then nightcap 5-3. The Bisons won the first 14-8 and lost the second 9-5.

3 Ohioans Listed In Top 10 Keglers

CHICAGO (AP)—Three Ohioans finished among the top 10 in the $367,744 Louis P. Petersen bowling classic that just concluded a long stand in which 14,144 bowlers rolled.

Dominic Aveni of Euclid and John Hatala of Willowick tied for fifth place with 1,637 pins for eight games and won $2,500 each. Bill Gordon of Cleveland, just one pin back, was in a three-way tie for seventh and earned $1,600.

John McDermott, an Ardmore, Pa., bowling lanes operator and instructor, won the event with 1,676—good for $30,000.

Joppy, dam of the great Carry Bak, earned $325 in seven non-winning races as a 2-year-old in 1951. Carry Bak was her second foal. Beautiful A. M. was her first.

Cupit Pockets Western Cash

Champion Promises
Never Be Lazy Again

CHICAGO (AP)—Jacky Cupit, the new Western Open golf champion, says he never again will get lazy.

"It happened to me last fall when I had reached the first 20 money winners on the PGA circuit," said the 24-year Texan from Longview. "I went home for two months, quitting the tour because I just got lazy."

"The payoff just about wrecked my swing. When I got back on the tour I was hooking everything. My brother, Buster (one of five brothers who are professionals) finally discovered that I had unknowingly developed a strong right hand."

"I corrected it and gradually got back into the groove. I had my swing just right for this tournament. It had to be on such a demanding course as Medinah 140. 3. But I'll never get lazy again, you can bet on that."

The 5-9, 190-pound Cupit won the Canadian Open in 1961 and was voted Rookie of the Year after finishing 18th on the money list with $22,813. This year his best finish was a tie for 10th in the Houston Classic before mastering Medinah's tree-hemmed, par 36-35 -71 with rounds of 69-70-71-71-81.

It earned him first money of $11,000, boosting him from 48th on the winning list to 14th with a total of $18,507.

Billy Casper made a great closing stab for the title with a closing 67 that included nine one-putts. He finished at 283 for second place and $5,500.

Gary Player, who shared the 54-hole lead with Cupit with 3-under-par 210, rocketed to a closing 76 with him at 286 as Fred Hawkins with a final 70.

Al Geilberger and Julius Boros had 287. Arnold Palmer, breaking par for the first time with a 69, posted 288. Next at 291 was National Open champion Jack Nicklaus and four others. Nicklaus wound up with a 75, his poorest round of the meet.

U.S. Plans Huge 'Firecracker' For Fourth of July Night

HONOLULU (AP)—The United States will make a third try at exploding its biggest and highest atmospheric nuclear shot of the current Pacific series on Wednesday night, the Fourth of July, above Johnston Island.

A spokesman for Joint Task Force 8, which is conducting the tests at Johnston and British-owned Christmas Island, said the blast is scheduled between 4 a. m. Thursday and 7:30 a. m., Eastern Standard Time.

Washington reports have indicated the explosion will bring the Pacific series near conclusion. The reports said the series is about 85 per cent completed.

The test comes within the two or three months mentioned by President Kennedy in March when he announced the decision to resume nuclear testing. The series, tagged Operation Dominic, began April 25.

Officially, the high-altitude device will have the explosive force of more than a million tons of TNT, the power scientists call a megaton. Unofficially, it is expected to be up to 50 times as powerful as the nuclear warhead dropped on Hiroshima.

The explosion is expected to go off at an altitude of about 200 miles.

The first high shot attempt, June 4, was aborted when the Thor missile's tracking system failed. The second attempt, on June 19, was scrubbed when the Thor hull overheated and collapsed. Parts of the second rocket fell back on Johnston Island, slightly injuring two civilian technicians.

The blast may knock a hole in the ionosphere, a layer of space particles which reflect radio waves, and disrupt communications throughout the Pacific for hours.

Old Balloons Far Away

SANDOVAL, Ill. (AP)—Officials of this Southern Illinois town's centennial committee were surprised to learn some of the helium-filled balloons released during the centennial celebration in 1959 were found bobbing in a Florida surf 1,200 miles away in May 1962.

The mystery was solved when a fisherman explained he was using the discarded balloons to test a fishing technique during a Florida vacation.

Middleport Man Held in Slaying

POMEROY, Ohio (AP)—A 38-year-old Middleport man was being held in the Meigs County jail today. Sheriff Bob Hartenbach said the man admitted killing Edward Lee Tucker, 44, of Middleport early Sunday.

Being held is Vear Lane, at whose home Tucker was shot fatally.

Hartenbach said Lane claims Tucker threatened him earlier at the party at his home and the two remained in Lane's house after other friends left. The sheriff said an argument ensued and Lane apparently got a 16-gauge shotgun and shot Tucker.
